You have probably noticed these are real live people—Mr. and Mrs. Donn Franklin, with Christy and Tommy.

Sanitary District Board Says Use Charge Is Valid

The consensus of the board of directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District is that the claims of Walnut Creek attorney John Forde against the district are not valid.

The decision came in a letter to Forde dated March 25, and signed by Gerry Horstkotte, the district manager-engineer, which continued, "one member of the board (suggested) that you be invited to file action . . . and determine the constitutionality of the ordinance."

Ordinance referred to is No. 37, which levies a new use charge against owners of commercial property.

FORDE had presented a letter to the directors on March 17, informing them he planned to file action in Superior Court in and for the County of Contra Costa, against the ordinance, on the grounds of unconstitutionality.

Upon receipt of the district's reply, Forde said he would have to get actively into the lawsuit before he could determine whether the use charge is lawful.

Nearly 100 property owners gathered at the real estate board office in Walnut Creek last Thursday to discuss their protests and their chances of succeeding in the suit.

AMONG the group were owners of motels, restaurants, multiple dwellings and offices. In addition to the charge of unconstitutionality, there was an indication the charge on commercial users would help defray connection charges on new construction, and thus make costs on contractors somewhat "easier."

Many of the group expressed doubt as to the need for the charge. Forde has not yet indicated when he will take action on behalf of his clients. He said only that it would be "soon."

The ordinance went into effect in January and came to public attention about three weeks ago when the first quarterly statements were mailed.

ORIGINALLY the bulk of complaints came from owners of multiple dwelling units, but many other commercial building owners have now added their voices.

Although the sanitary district's original study relative to the use charge included single-family dwellings, it has not yet been applied to them.

John Bohn, counsel for the district, was to report to the board of directors at their meeting last night, after the Sun had gone to press. It was thought likely that some local citizens affected by the charge would be on hand for the meeting.

The directors expected to decide at the meeting on the handling of schools, churches and other non-profit organizations.

Other business on the agenda were work plans on the outfall sewer, a resolution for sale of Series D bonds and the district manager's report.

Construction on Culvert Dated

Supervisor M. F. Nielsen of Supervisorial District II announced Tuesday that the board of supervisors awarded a contract for construction of a culvert on Larch Avenue in Moraga to Robert R. Murdoch of Orinda, who submitted a bid of $5,371.50, the lowest of two bids received. The engineer's estimate of cost was $6,215.

The new culvert, consisting of a reinforced concrete box ten feet wide, four feet high and 51 feet in length, will replace the existing low-capacity four foot diameter pipe under Larch Avenue 700 feet southeast of Canyon Road.

Work will probably commence in two weeks and with 35 working days allowed, the contractor should complete the project by June 10. Traffic will be detoured around the project site over other convenient roads in the area.

Student Hazards Will Get Help of County Budget

The County Public Welfare Department informed the board of supervisors this week that $30,000 has been included in the department's tentative 1960-61 budget for the elimination of student pedestrian hazards in districts throughout the county.

The money had been requested two weeks ago by the County Student Protective Committee, composed of representatives of parent groups, the public works department, the California Highway Patrol and other county offices.

MEMBERS of the student protective committee conducted a survey which resulted in the location of many student pedestrian hazards—largely the lack of adequate walking space on county roads—in nearly all of the school districts in unincorporated areas.

Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer and secretary of the committee, cautioned, however, that the tentative allocation of the funds does not mean that the county will be able to eliminate all of the student hazards which need correcting.

Kermit explained that in many instances of hazards, the local property owners must act first, and then the county would use part of the funds in cooperative endeavors.

HE SAID that homeowners in new subdivisions often landscape their property right up to the curb line, and that actually the county has retained a 7 to 15-foot right-of-way for a pedestrian area.

By planting shrubs and bushes right up to the curb line, he added, the owners have removed the pedestrian area and forced students into the streets.

Orinda Library Has Exhibits

With National Library Week, April 3 to 9, the Orinda Branch of the Contra Costa County Library has on display two exhibits: the first is a collection of art books, the gift of Eugen Neuhaus, professor emeritus, University of California, to the Orinda Library. The second exhibit contains books on printing and book illustration from the branch collection.

National Library Week was inaugurated in 1958 under the auspices of the national book committee, a non-profit citizens' organization devoted to the wider and wiser use of books. It is observed in more than 5000 communities in all 50 states.

Pine Grove Proposal Is Endorsed

THIS IS the office and professional development proposed by the Bayshore Construction Company in Oakland for the 10½-acre Pine Grove property in Orinda. The plan was presented to members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, and the chamber endorsed the proposed development in accordance with present agricultural office zoning. The proposal will be discussed by the Orinda Association's planning committee Monday night.

Chamber Approves Office Development On Property

By LARRY GLAZIER

Members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday endorsed the plans of the Bayshore Construction Company in Oakland to develop a large community of business and professional offices on the Pine Grove property.

The chamber group took the action after the proposal was explained by Robert Bailey of the construction firm, which is affiliated with the Associated Investment Company in the project. The construction firm has owned the 10½-acre property for about 18 months.

Bailey said he will take the same proposal before the Orinda Association's planning committee Monday night for the committee's discussion and possible action.

THE BAYSHORE representative reported that he had previously met with Vic Kingston, president of the association, and Richard Bartle, chairman of the planning committee, regarding the plan.

In addition, the development, billed as "The Bay Area's Newest Luxury Office and Professional Center" and named simply "Pine Grove" is being advertised by means of attractively printed brochures and a large banner flying high above the Crossroads property.

The banner exclaims, "Why Commute? Phone TEmplebar 2-2900 for Leasing Information," and Bailey acknowledged that his firm has received 12 inquiries during the last week as a result of the sign.

HE SAID THAT Associated Investment Company has no definite leases signed, but it is hoped construction on the development will begin in about 90 days.

The property involved, on the northeast corner of the Crossroads and next to the Pine Grove School, is the same land which was involved in the heated Pacific

Intermountain Express controversy several years ago.

Bailey said his group proposes to construct modern ranch-type administrative, professional and business office buildings on the land to include a high degree of landscaping and adequate parking space.

HE INDICATED THE firm would prefer to have one or two large insurance-type company offices in the development, but is prepared to develop the land for private groups also.

The present zoning of the property, which is agricultural office, does not allow the inclusion of any neighborhood business establishments, he stated.

Longacre Tells Plan For Court

A municipal judge must temper his justice with consistency, Orinda attorney Joseph R. Longacre Jr. told members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce at their Tuesday luncheon meeting.

Longacre, who resides in Orinda and has offices here, is a candidate for the judgeship of the Walnut Creek Municipal Court. He is the only opponent of incumbent Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn of Walnut Creek.

THE CANDIDATE told chamber members that he believes money derived from the court should not be the measure for justice meted out in the court.

He explained that in the case of speeders he would order jail sentences and large fines, but he would suspend both for a year's time.

If the speeder does not receive another citation within the year, Longacre said, the sentence and fine would be wiped from the record. If another citation is received by the same person, the sentence and the fine would be enforced.

"THIS, LONGACRE declared, "would be a preventive. Fines are not deterrents to many persons in this area."

Longacre, who has served on the educational advisory council of the Orinda Union School District, promised to devote "full time, overtime, any time" to the judge's job.

Clarence Betz, chamber secretary, reported that the Camino Pablo signal lights will be installed in about six months and the State Division of Highways will install Orinda markers at the freeway entrances.

Chamber President Jim Lucas appointed John Ogden chairman of this year's nominating committee and named Ken White and Joe Duffie to assist him.

School Board Approves Pay Raises for Teachers

Trustees of the Orinda Union School District Monday night approved a new salary schedule for the district's certificated personnel and included an average 4½ per cent increase.

The new teachers' salary schedule provides a minimum of $4,720 per year and a maximum of $8,310, with a super maximum of $8,560 annually for specially qualified teachers. The 1959-60 schedule had a minimum of $4,520 and a maximum of $8,140.

TRUSTEE PHILIP BUSH pointed out that while the district's average pay hike amounts to 4½ per cent, the Bureau of Labor Standards reported that the cost of living in the Bay Area has increased only 1.4 per cent in the last year.

Joseph Sheaff, district superintendent, reported the district has 20 teaching positions to fill and the passage of the new schedule at this time gives the district something definite to discuss with prospective teachers during Easter vacation.

The school board also approved, subject to the approval of the district attorney's office, a working agreement with the newly incorporated Orinda Youth Athletic Association for the installation of baseball diamonds and a recreational area at the southern end of the Wagner Ranch property.

WILLIAM C. (DUB) LITTLE, president of the non-profit association, and Robert Thaman, secretary and legal advisor for the group, reported that the proposed contract includes all the items specified previously by the district attorney's office.

The agreement binds the association to "provide the community of Orinda with baseball fields and recreational areas at no cost to the school district."

Registration Day Coming for New School Children

Registration will be held in the Orinda Union School District for children who will enter kindergarten and first grade in September, 1960, for the first time. Children who have attended kindergarten in Orinda schools need not register for first grade.

Registration will be held from 9 a.m. until 12 noon on Thursday and Friday, April 21 and 22, 1960, at all elementary schools. Parents are urged by school officials to register children on one of these days, so that the district may plan accurately for the new school term.

Birth certificates must be shown at the time of registration. Under Section 5254 of the Education Code, a child must be at least four years and nine months old on September 1, 1960, to enter kindergarten in the fall of 1960.

To enter the first grade in the fall of 1960, a child must be at least five years and nine months old on September 1, 1960.

In addition to birth certificates, parents will be required to bring their children's records of inoculation, name and telephone number of the family doctor, and the name of a neighbor who may be notified in case of an emergency if a parent cannot be reached.

Sewing Basics Taught Wednesdays

Women who have done little or no sewing are invited to enroll in Virginia Ewing's class in Sewing and Clothing which meets on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. at Pleasant Hill High School.

Scout Leaders Course Is Begun

The scout leaders training course for scouts of the Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga area was launched very successfully last week at the Lafayette Orinda Presbyterian Church.

Ceremonies, crafts, activity and information was given those who attended, which will assist them in putting on a better program of scouting for the boys in this area.

At the completion of the session refreshments were served by the training team consisting of Al Meade as chairman, with Lester Sweazey, Leonard Darwin Jack Steller, also district executives Sam Gardner and Henry Blaylock.

The next session which will complete the course will be April 13 at the same place.

Certificates will be awarded those completing the course.

SPKG. OF ARCHITECTS, Donna McNeill called in friends & neighbors to toast to husband Murray recently when he passed the State Board exams, those long handwritten ones, one more step towards his architect license.

MOTHER OF THE WEEK . . . Jean Palmer, mother of 12, not TOO busy to help transport some of Mr. Witt's PG students to a bowling party—her V-wagon BUS just bulging w/boys & girls. A Busman's (Buddy's) Holiday?

Then there's Mrs. Hick's Orinda School classroom featuring, for all to see, those homespun mottoes of yesteryear—like: "Home is where the heart is," "Silence is golden," etc. & there at the very end in delicate penmanship "Fish and visitors both smell after three days." (Well, in the suburbs, anyhow!)

THEN THERE was the husband in town who browsed through the day's mail & wondered about the bill from The Body Shoppe in Lafayette. "I didn't know you had any work done to the car, dear," said he. She didn't. The Body Shoppe being a slenderizing parlor did work on her chassis, not on the car's & she was trying to keep it a secret from HIM!

Parkhill Fails In Attempt to Unseat Nielsen

Chairman Mel Nielsen of the county board of supervisors very nearly had some opposition in his bid for another term as second district supervisor, but when all was said and done, he coasted into the June election unopposed.

A frantic last-minute move to oppose Nielsen failed last Friday evening when it was learned that supporters of George E. Parkhill Jr., 52, of 999 Victoria Court, Lafayette, presented nomination papers on his behalf which lacked the necessary 20 valid signatures.

PARKHILL, in his second term as a commissioner of the Lafayette Fire District and a former fellow commissioner of Nielsen's, first indicated his official desire to run for the supervisory post at 2:30 p.m. Friday by taking out the nomination papers.

Nominations for inclusion on the ballot closed at 5 p.m. Friday.

ditto the Paul Winquists, Bill Gilmores, Harold Bowers who was one of the judges.

TOTEM POLES fashioned from cans, felt & coat hangers & looking like the real McCoy were made by Pack 237 whose display was housed inside a Birdhouse building where Jim Sategna, Greg Sawyer were working on modern homes for modern birds. Bill Price, the proud father here.

Midge & Ruth Hendrickson of Lafayette, w/their dgtr. Sharon waiting for son Gary who was carting home his Indian gear. He belongs to Pack 200 whose handsome exhibit was an authentic Teepee, Indian dress, headgear & moccasins all made by the young cubs . . . We admired Jeff Foster's pink ascension balloon, Jim Dobby's butterfly kite, the arrowhead collection of John Osborne & father, & chatted briefly w-den mother Jean Dobby.

LIZARDS under glass by Grege Biegel & Dave Prichard (how do you share lizards?) were interesting but nothing NEW to us . . . ever find them in the jean pockets?

TOOLS of the Forest were explained to us by Bruce Scott of Post 224, Laf., & we were shown how to measure the height & diameter of even the big trees.

Earning their Home Repairs Merit Badge were scouts Steve Douglas, Bob Hussey binding wires together.

WHEEL Safety was the feature of Cub Pack 232 & den mother Anita Pearson had a bevy of moppets filling out stubs for the drawing to be held that night—a roller coaster made part by part by the boys of the pack, two of which were Pete Pearson & Steve Russell. CONGRATS to seven-yr. old Tommy Kurtz of Scenic Dr., who was the lucky ticket holder!

STEVEN KIRKLAND of Pack 207 very intelligently & patiently explained jet propulsion to us but the coal gardens by Bruce Campbell & David Hooker were more our speed.

DAY WAS DONE at 8:30 when the last plank was hauled out of the Miramonte gym. We saw the Bill Seiferts hauling their boys home, Helena Jacob, Kelsey Van Every & Sulo Mansonen who all felt it was a long, but worthwhile day. Heard one father mutter "Boy, Scouting has SURE changed!" Saw the Jack Gilberts depart w/their family. But not for long.

SAW THEM BACK again the next day for the Miramonte Pool Opening. It couldn't have been a better day for a dip in the new pool or a dive from one of the two boards in the smaller diving pool. The Del Thompsons on deck. Betty Pilgrim & Billie Bowles greeting friends & beaming to beat the band.

New Deadline for Exploration of Careers Is May 1

The deadline for filing applications for the Career Exploration Course has been extended until May 1 to allow students the opportunity to evaluate their report card grades with their plans for summer school.

The experience gained in actual work on a job on a volunteer basis has been of great benefit to last year's participants when seeking work for pay. Since there is no pressure on the student to produce a specified amount of work when on a volunteer basis, there is a better chance to judge the career as a life work.

THE ACALANES High School District will offer summer school credit for the Career Exploration Course. Mrs. Elizabeth Chilton, who directed the work education program at Miramonte High School last summer, will be the coordinator of this year's program.

"The career experiences desired by the applicants are more diversified this year," according to Mrs. Chilton. "Besides exploration in the fields of archeology, architecture, advertising and interior design, we have had applications for dental hygiene, drafting, radio announcing, photographic journalism and physical therapy."

THE ROTARY career night held at Miramonte recently seems to have stimulated an interest in the foreign service, as we have three students who desire this field," she continued.

Prominent leaders in the community, working with Mrs. Chilton as a citizens' advisory committee, will provide jobs which exactly fit the needs of each applicant. Members of this committee include James Campbell, Clarence Dunn, Roscoe Hughes, Dr. Paul Slattery, Miles Sutcliffe, and Ken White.

Divergent Views Stated At Fluoridation Meeting

Speakers at Monday night's annual meeting of the Orinda Association expressed highly divergent views of the proposed addition of fluoride to the public water supply of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The viewpoints expressed were not entirely unexpected by the approximately 200 citizens who attended the meeting at the Miramonte High School cafeteria. The debate was the first public meeting in the central county on the topic which will be presented to the district's voters June 7.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY John Nejedly, introduced by Vic Kings Nejedly, association president, as a special impartial guest, explained that the addition of fluoride to the public water supply is legal under California statutes.

Speakers favoring fluoridation included Dr. Karl Koenig, Richmond dentist; Paul E. Wyskowski of Berkeley, representative of the state department of public health; and Dr. Sheldon Margen, internist and biochemist with the University of California Medical School.

Opponents of fluoridation were Dr. Arthur B. MacWhinnie, Seattle surgeon; Dr. George M. Sciaroni, Fresno surgeon and vice chairman of the Fresno Pure Water League; and John M. Hoffman, attorney of Alameda County and San Francisco.

BEFORE and after the debate, Kingston pointed out that the association was not taking a stand on either side of the fluoridation question, but was merely placing the subject before the public for discussion.

Arguments presented for fluoridation of the EBMUD water supply were:

Forty per cent of the school children in the county are in need of dental care.

Addition of fluoride to the district's water could save about $1.5 million per year in dental bills for about 300,000 youngsters in EBMUD's service area.

ADDITION of fluoride to the water is no more injurious, improper or difficult than the addition of alum, chlorine and other standard chemicals already added to public drinking water. Fluoride is already present in smaller or varying amounts in the natural water supplies, and the only necessary factor is the measurement of the proper proportion. There is no proof that fluoride in drinking water has ever harmed anybody.

ON THE OTHER hand, opponents of the fluoridation proposal claimed:

Addition of fluoride to the public water supply is an invasion of individual, moral and constitutional rights.

It represents "mass medication with a toxic drug for all," regardless of individual tolerances, needs or preferences.

There are alternative methods of administering fluoride for those who want it.

FLUORIDATION causes disfigurement of teeth and possible injurious effects on other parts of the body, which may have more serious consequences.

Fluorid corrodes the pipes of water distribution systems and results in higher plumbing bills.

It hasn't been sufficiently nor properly tested on animals to determine its long-range effects on human beings.

IN OTHER items, at the annual meeting, Kingston reported the association is well on its way to reaching its 1960 membership goal of 1000. The membership drive will end April 20.

The group's president also said the association will present to the community some time this year plans for development of the association property as a possible community center. The property is located on the west side of Camino Pablo, north of the Crossroads.

But It's a Work-A-Day Week for Board Members

Members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board this week celebrated National Realtor's Week, scarcely a month after a merger designed to bring better service to fringe areas between Walnut Creek and Concord.

Two breakfasts were held — part of the Realtor's weekly routine — Monday morning at the Walnut Creek Elks Club and Thursday morning at Queen's Restaurant in Concord.

Bus tours after each breakfast acquainted the realtors with homes for sale in the Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek, Danville area on Monday and the Pleasant Hill, Concord area on Thursday.

THE RECENT merger of the Contra Costa Board and the Concord Board brought the total membership to about 650 and the number of brokers alone to about 150.

All members now have the use of the Real Estate Board building on Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and a single multiple listing service for the entire area.

Especially benefitting is the Ygnacio Valley area which formerly was on the "fringe" of both boards' areas.

Wayne Bailey, board executive vice president, said, "We enjoy our activities during Realtors' Week, but also we like to think of our overall program throughout the year."

"IT INCLUDES not only the constant effort to improve serv-

Leaders of Cities See Transit Plans

The Contra Costa mayors conference was told last week that Bay Area Rapid Transit District authorities have submitted routes and terminal plans to the cities, and the cities and county have about two months to form their own opinions.

Marvin Joseph, district director, said the cities will make recommendations to the county board of supervisors, which in turn will make recommendations to the district.

At the meeting, Louis Riggs, consultants' engineer, outlined the routes and terminals planned for the county.

Kenneth Hoover, district chief engineer, said several types of vehicles and propulsion are being studied.

He said monorail appears to be about 25 per cent more expensive than a conventional rail system, and a question is whether it is superior to other systems.

Lilly Tag Day Is Tomorrow

Youth and beauty will join forces to make their contribution to the 1960 Easter Seal campaign tomorrow.

As a climax to Crippled Children's Week, over 200 young women, members of Rainbow Assemblies and other youth groups in Contra Costa County, have volunteered to participate in the traditional Lilly Tag Days.

Stationed at busy corners and in shopping centers, the young girls will offer small paper Easter Lilies to passersby in return for contributions to benefit crippled children and adults.

The paper lilies are made by homebound persons who are being helped by the Easter Seal Society.

In the Classroom...

Glorietta Third Graders Study Old China Culture

Third grade students at Glorietta School are studying the old cultures of China. Members of Mrs. Cutler's class have learned that the Chinese were responsible for inventing the compass, gun powder, fire crackers, paper and various musical instruments.

The class has sent CARE packages to Korea and in connection with the unit have written to an English-speaking school in Hong Kong. They hope to hear from Chinese students attending this school.

IN MRS. NORBERG'S fourth grade class, a few boys are making a relief map of the United States. It is very interesting. The boys are Ricky Cook, Wesley Edwards, Brady Keresey and Steve Bowles. They have made three already but they all cracked and had to be thrown away. They made another one which was fine. They work on it after all the other school work is finished. They are now starting to paint it with the help of Mrs. Rossi, the district art teacher.

MISS MEKE'S fifth grade class has recently completed an essay contest on the most important American document. The winners were Janet Saulaich and Pat Stillson.

Janet's composition, "Why the Bill of Rights Are Important Today" follows: "The bill of Rights or Amendments are important today because they give everyone the right to do certain things they want to do, such as letting you have religious freedom, freedom of speech and no loss of liberty."

"The Bill of Rights also has things you cannot do, such as no excessive bail or fine, and cruel punishment and others. The Bill of Rights were made for our own good. If we did not have the Amendments or Bill of Rights, we would have a world that would be hardly any good to anyone."

PAT STILLSON wrote on "The Constitution." "The Constitution was written for all of the citizens of the United States of America and for their sake, because if they did not have any laws that stood for the whole nation, the different states would be in a mess."

"The Constitution provides no strict laws like the Puritans had, now anyone can worship in their own way. The Constitution has been changed during the past years to suit the times because we don't want to live in old colonial times."

Even though the Constitution helped, it wasn't perfect and there were some disagreements, so the Bill of Rights was added (it is also called the Bill of Particulars)."

THE THIRD GRADE had a spelling contest recently in which seven pupils were selected from tests in each grade to enter a final oral contest.

They held this contest outdoors on one of the nicer spring days this month. Everyone participated in the preparatory studying, and while the contest was in progress, it was hard to determine which group was more enthusiastic and nervous-contestants or audience.

Winners were: Gracie Stratos, Valerie Cooper and Jacqueline Dunn.

Pine Grove: Sacramento

All eighth grade students of Pine Grove visited Sacramento, our state capital, last week. Students were transported by bus and spent a very educational and enjoyable day. Guided tours took them through the Governor's office, secretary and treasurer's office, into the Senate and Assembly. Each student was given a list of questions to follow through as this field trip was planned to coincide with their intensive study of the Constitution.

PINE GROVE'S eighth grade basketball team won first place in the Walnut Creek Invitational Basketball Tournament on March 18, held at the Las Lomas gymnasium. The final game was 11-4, Pine Grove triumphing over Pleasant Hill. Schools from Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Sun Ramon, Alamo and Orinda participated in this annual tournament.

Randy Smith, Mr. Tripp's eighth grade homeroom, recently received his amateur radio operator's license. His call numbers are W6GKUV.

"The Rimov Review"—A big event is coming to the class! In about a week they are going to have a Spanish party. Several mothers have offered to help with the Mexican food. As a special guest, the class will be honored to have a foreign exchange student from Spain. The party will be very interesting for Spanish will be spoken.

ON MARCH 29, student representatives of the Orinda Schools attended a lecture given by Miss Marcia Brown. Those who attended were: Laurie Mateer (Del Rey), Leslie Roberts (Inland Valley), John Donlon (Sleepy Hollow), Katherine White (Orinda), Steve Anderson (Glorietta) and Kimberly Perry (Pine Grove). They were accompanied by Mrs. Alice Frederick, district librarian, and Ms. Lillian Brothers. The group heard Miss Brown speak in the Westlake Auditorium in Oakland.

Miss Brown, world famous author, illustrator of children's books and winner of the Caldecott award for "Cinderella", talked about her experiences which inspired the creation of many loved books. She displayed many of her works and let the audience have a preview of what will undoubtedly be a very beautiful book soon to be published. Student library assistants of most of the Oakland schools were also in attendance.

Del Rey: Egg Trees

Mrs. Andrews' second-graders at Del Rey have raised their own Easter egg tree. The children blew out the yolks and whites, then painted the shells in gay colors and patterns. The decorated eggs were then tied to the tree with bright ribbons. Scrambled eggs was a common breakfast dish this week.

The good fairy has been kept busy visiting the pillows of Mrs. McCormack's first-graders. Sue Dewing, Bernice Harris and Cary Pencovic lost loose ones from the upper deck and Dana Seifert started losing the lower row. After Mrs. McCormack pulls a loose one, it is carried home to go under the pillow. It's a good thing it's not sweet corn season!

IT'S BACK TO the buggy days in Miss Haworth's first grade, with her children collecting bugs right and left. They have fashioned some king-sized models from colored paper, so the room abounds with lady bugs, lightning bugs and a praying mantis.

Foreign Students Visit Legislature Budget Session

Continuing their desire to acquaint the American Field Service students from abroad with various phases of local and state government and industry, the Orinda AFS chapter recently took advantage of an opportunity to have the four exchange students from Acalanes and Miramonte High Schools attend special budget sessions of the legislature.

They were invited by Professor F. C. Newman of Boalt School of Law and his class in legislation, who were making the trip to Sacramento, to go as their guests.

THE EXCHANGE students found that their studies in local and state government in American problems class came to life through the trip. They visited the session of the Assembly in the morning and were introduced by Jerome Waldie, assemblyman from the Tenth District and in the afternoon visited the Senate and were introduced by George Miller Jr., senator from the Seventeenth District. In each session they were extended the "Privilege of the Floor" and saw several bills voted on.

An opportunity was given the students to sit in on briefing sessions by two legal advisors in the Capitol, William Coblentz, special counsel to Governor Brown, and Ralph Kleps, chief legislative counsel.

THE STUDENTS were fascinated by the electrical voting apparatus in the assembly and were interested in observing the amount of business which took place in the corridors.

Copies of the printed Daily Journal are being sent to the students with their names in the record as they were introduced and extended the privilege of the floor.

Exchange students making the trip were Yoko Abe and Charles R. Trippe from Acalanes and Sri Widiati Saebani and Enrique Lopez Bruno from Miramonte High School. They were accompanied by Mrs. Abe R. Doty and Mrs. F. C. Newman, members of the Orinda AFS chapter which sponsored the trip.

Man Attempts To Rob Mel's

A 23 year old man was arrested in the restaurant area of Mel's Drive In on North Main Street early yesterday morning when he attempted robbery.

Pushing customers and waitresses around, the man appeared to be carrying a gun under his coat. Originally charged with attempted armed robbery, drunk and disturbing the peace and assault, the first charge was dropped when it was proven he carried no weapon.

Shepherd of the Valley Church Starts Building

Formal go-ahead for construction of a $100,000 chapel at 433 Moraga Way, Orinda, was received today by Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church. Approval came from the New York headquarters office of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The announcement culminates many months of consecrated effort by the local congregation, reorganized in 1956 under the leadership of the Reverend Albert S. Hidy, Jr., pastor.

A GROUND-BREAKING ceremony on the building site, a 4 1/2 acre tract of land at the intersection of Moraga Way and Orchard Road, will be held Sunday at 4 p.m., with Rev. Hidy officiating.

Actual construction will start the following week. The contract was awarded to the D. E. Moss Construction Co., Oakland.

Approved plans call for an additional $20,000 of paving, walkways, drainage and landscaping. Donald Powers Smith, San Francisco, is the architect.

SHEPHERD OF THE Valley Lutheran Church was activated in late 1952 as a mission congregation, with the Reverend Edward R. Andersen as pastor. The first service was held on March 15, 1953, attended by 86 adults and 34 children.

Services since that date have been held in a home originally purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Markus at a cost of $23,000, which included title to four acres of land adjacent to the home.

In December, 1958, the church council approved installation of the first of three sections of drainage pipe, which was later filled over to bring the building site up to its present grade.

IN JANUARY of this year, the church conducted an intensive campaign to acquaint members and friends of the need for a permanent church. As a result, more than $60,000 in two-year pledges and cash gifts was realized. This amount far exceeded the "venture" goal and helped assure early expansion of facilities.

The present congregation numbers 125 families, an increase of 30 per cent within the past 12 months. Approximately 125 children are enrolled in Sunday school classes. The new church will accommodate close to 300. Completion date has been set for October, 1960.

Provision will be made for adequate off-street parking with access from both Moraga Way and Orchard Road. Members are planning an extensive tree planting program as a start toward ultimate finished landscaping. Include facilities for outdoor recreation.

RAPT ATTENTION is displayed by these youngsters who attended last Friday's Children's Story Hour at the Orinda Library. The story time is held each Friday at 9:30 a.m. at the library, under the direction of Mrs. William Howe (right). The program is under the sponsorship of the Friends of the Orinda Library.

Christian Science

How God's goodness and allness establishes the basis for universal harmony will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill and Lafayette meets at 3409 Mt. Diablo Blvd.

The Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will include this verse from the Bible: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord He is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: There is none else" (Deut. 4:39).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (414:21-23): "The Scripture declares, 'The Lord He is God (good); there is none else beside Him.' Even so, harmony is universal, and discord is unreal."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (103:24): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction."

Episcopal

Christ's entry into Jerusalem will be commemorated on Palm Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, by the blessing and distribution of palms at services of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and morning prayer and ante-communion at 9:15 and 11 a.m.

The Reverend C. Corwin Calavan, rector, will conduct the services and will preach. He will be assisted by the Reverend William Pothier, associate pastor. The Gospel, which will be the Passion according to St. Matthew, will be read responsively.

CHURCH SCHOOL classes will be held for kindergartners through eighth grade at 9:15 and for three year olds through fifth grade at 11 o'clock. A class for senior high school students will meet at the Robert Moorhead home, 36 Via Floreodo, during the latter service.

Nursery care for younger children will be available during both services at the David Wenrich home, 14 St. Stephen's Drive.

During Holy Week the regular mid-week services of Holy Communion will be held on Wednesday at 10 a.m. and Thursday at 7 a.m. Nursery care is available in the basement of the rector during Wednesday's service.

THURSDAY evening the Maundy Thursday celebration of Holy Communion will be preceded by a demonstration at 7:30 p.m. by the Young People's Fellowship of a Jewish Seder meal, with an explanation by Rabbi David Robins of Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

Choral Eucharist will follow at 8 p.m. and the service will close with the stripping of the altar.

On Good Friday a three hour service from noon to 3 p.m. will be held, which will include morning prayer and ante-communion, the Litany, meditations and hymns. Nursery care will be available in the basement of the rectory during this service.

At 4 p.m. a service for children aged 6 to 12 will be held, and at 8 p.m. a service of Litany and ante-communion.

Meetings throughout the week will include an instruction session for the acolytes tomorrow at 8 a.m. and an organization meeting of those interested in participating in a church drama group tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. under the leadership of Jean Henderson.

ON MONDAY at 7:30 p.m. parents of the junior high young people's group will meet in Hill Memorial hall, and on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. there will be meetings of the vestry and of the church school teachers.

Nursery care is provided during both services. There will be baptisms and reception of new members at the services.

At 9:30 a.m. church school is held for all ages. There is a class for the high school youth, an adult Bible class and an adult church school class. College age youth meet in homes before the church services (Call YE 5-4236) for more information as to address).

The Methodist Young Fellowship will have their regular meeting at 7 p.m. All high school youth are invited.

Rahn, Longacre Trade Jobs

Municipal Court Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn and her opponent, Attorney Joe Longacre, did some preliminary jabbing Monday night. But observers agreed that the "haymakers" are being saved for nearer the June election.

They spoke at the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce's Candidates Night, and answered several questions.

Mrs. Rahn recalled that she campaigned successfully for the judicial court judgeship only two years ago, and she hadn't expected to be back seeking votes again so soon.

SHE SAID, "If I had stepped out of line at any time during my tenure, it would have been brought to your attention; it would have been published in the newspapers as of the next day."

She reminded her audience that her court was rated as among the most efficient in the county, that she has improved the traffic court case handling and initiated a driver improvement school for violators.

She said, "My opponent has said I am not a full time judge, but it is not so. He has intimated that I do not have the proper judicial temperament, but he has never been in my courtroom . . ."

When asked about the number of hours she spends in court duties, she said her hours are in excess of almost all other courts in the county, adding that in her last two cases, the jury verdicts were rendered at 12 midnight and 1 a.m. respectively.

LONGACRE emphasized that the change in the court from judicial to municipal rank made it " . . . a larger job, a bigger workload, and he said he believes he is qualified due to his extensive trial court background."

To Judge Rahn's statement that she hadn't expected to be back running for office so soon, he said that legislative mandate is that a new election must follow elevation of the court to municipal status.

He also said, "This campaign in no way will involve personalities, whatsoever."

Most of the questions were directed to Longacre.

Thunderbirds' Dinner Tickets Still Available

Some seats are still available for the first annual kickoff dinner of the LaMorinda Thunderbirds, the new Pop Warner football team serving the Lafayette-Orinda-Moraga area, Joe Dame, president of the Thunderbirds, said yesterday.

Dame said the banquet, with tickets selling to the public at $4 each, will be a fund-raising event for the team and the proceeds will be used for uniforms and equipment. The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. April 18 at Mike Lynn's Restaurant in Orinda.

ONE of the features of the event will be a gala fashion show being coordinated by Mrs. John Hallenback, Orinda housewife and professional model, in cooperation with Bea Hink of Feminine Fancies in Orinda, who is supplying the sportswear to furs fashions.

Models for the show will include Mrs. Hallenback, Mrs. James Dawson, Miss Judy Fibush, Miss Nancy Maxey, Mrs. Lois Bacon and Mrs. Ted Timmons.

Dame said the show will be presented during the dinner so that the event will appeal to wives and husbands interested in the Pop Warner team.

FEATURED speaker of the evening will be Arleigh Williams, former Cal football great and presently dean of men at the Berkeley campus of the University of California. Williams is an Orinda resident.

Other former football stars who will grace the guest list for the dinner are Sam Chapman, Vic Battari and Bob Herwig of Cal and Ernie Nevers of Stanford, Dame stated.

Boys aged 12 through 14 will be participating in the Pop Warner program, which will pit the Thunderbirds against six other teams in the seven teams in the conference are from Contra Costa County — the Thunderbirds, Contra Costa Pioneers in Pleasant Hill and the West Contra Costa team in Richmond-San Pablo.

Rezoning Request Decision Delayed

Strenuous objections from neighbors, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Council to the application of Albert G. Lockwood to rezone 2.4 acres on the east side of Pleasant Hill Road north of Grayson were instrumental in the board of supervisor's motion to defer decision until April 28.

Meanwhile, the board will visit the site and investigate further the validity of the many protests. Lockwood wishes to rezone the

Exciting Underworld Exploring Is Beckoning

Area members of the newly formed Middle American Archaeological Society are planning to join Mexican underwater archaeologists this summer in recovering objects from one of the richest wrecks—historically speaking—ever found in the Western Hemisphere.

They include Society President John Ferris and Vice President J. Keith Pope, both of Walnut Creek, who will travel by plane probably in June or July to the east coast of Yucatan.

They and other society members will assist operations on the island of Cozumel, and near the island of New Mujeres.

THE WORK is being carried on principally by the Club de Exploraciones y Deportes Acuaticos de Mexico, during the period from June 15 to August 15.

New members are still joining the area society, which has members from the entire Bay Area. Researchers are especially welcome, but volunteers must be able to finance their own activities.

Ferris said that Enrico Banducci, proprietor of the "hungry i" in San Francisco, has agreed to make his 60-foot ketch, the "Shearwater," available to the society.

Banducci said that he and his attorney, Walter A. Medak, who handled arrangements for use of the boat, plan to fly to Mexico this summer and meet the "Shearwater" at Yucatan.

THE VESSEL is undergoing repairs in Sausalito and is expected to be ready to leave on the 5,000-mile voyage May 1.

A. A. Mikalow, director of the Coastal School of Deep Sea Diving in Oakland, has offered the organization the use of a large quantity of diving and salvage gear, according to Ferris.

Mikalow said he intends to participate in the Yucatan expedition.

Sophomores Dance and Ski; Seniors Perform and Party

by JULE NOLLER

Last weekend was quite a busy one for a few ambitious sophomores who went to the Marli Gras Dance at the Orinda Country Club on Friday night and who left early the next morning for Sugar Bowl with the Sophomore Teenage Club.

Having a ball at the Marli Gras were Carol Gilmore and Alan Hill, Sherry Odenthal and Dwight Thompson, Pat Finn and Dor Kidd, Nancy Englehard and Chris Felchlin and Karen Rigor and Tom Gaffaney.

Dick Sniffite, Tara Doty, Marc Jacobs, Paul McChesney, Jean Gleason, Carolyn Ceborn and Nancy Englehard were some of the early birds who got up at 5 a.m. to go skiing with the Sophomore Teenage Club the next morning. They stayed at Donner Ski Ranch and skied on the Donner slopes both Saturday and Sunday.

Near Donner at Sugar Bowl was the Miramonte Ski Club with a bus load of skiers. Jim Boyd, Diane Traverso, Ric Keating, Mike La Plant and Bobbie Kendall were part of the gang who went. This was the last trip of the season for the Ski Club. They spent Saturday and Sunday night at Ski Inn Lodge near Sugar Bowl.

Also at Ski Inn Lodge was Jack Hughes, John Thune, Jerilyn Ganiats and Lonnie Anderson, who drove up with Jack on Friday night. Both Jack and John, who are excellent skiers, entered a race on Sunday at Sugar Bowl.

Sally Spott and Carole McChesney played an April Fool's joke on the school last Friday. They announced over the PA system that their car, the Brookbank Special, was on sale for $200! Most of the students took them seriously until they found out that they had only paid $90 for it when they bought it from Skip Nelson last year. By the way, Carole and Sally plan to sail on the Lurline for two months in Hawaii together next summer.

The cast of the Senior Play has planned another party for this Sunday. Sylvia Silva, Jim Botto, Linda Williams, Kurt Lundblad, Bill Van Voorhis, Squire Fridell and the rest of the gang will take over Tilden Park for a picnic! They made a gross profit of $850 for the Senior Class on their two performances at Miramonte on March 25 and 26.

After Easter vacation, they plan to do "Annie Get Your Gun" again at a theater in Berkeley. The profits from this performance will be donated to the Children's Hospital.

This Easter vacation will be a busy one for Miramonte people. Kathie Shurtliff, Jim Boyd, Noel Jones, Pat Flint, Jack Hughes and Skip Nelson will all be skiing again! Joyce and Sherry Odenthal are going to Baja, California with their family for a week of water skiing. Sue Snow will be sunning herself in Palm Springs. Sally Spott and Carole McChesney will be off to Carmel (in the Brookbank Special?)

Seen dancing in the Tenga Room of the Fairmont Hotel last Saturday night were Milt Howe and Katy McQuaid, Charlie Blue and Sally Spott, Butch Guarnieri and Kathy Shurtliff and John Boyd and Wicky McCosker.

Judge Rahn Files For Re-Election,

Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn has filed papers for re-election as judge of the municipal court of the Walnut Creek judicial district on Monday.

She was elected for a six-year term as judge of the justice court in 1958 and took office in 1959.

The court has since been elevated to a municipal court.

JUDGE RAHN said, "Since I took office, the court has been operating as a full time unit. I feel the experience gained has prepared me to best serve the people in this district."

"During the campaign, I will not be able to see and contact as many of the people of this district as I would like.

"My first duty is to keep the court operating efficiently.

Scenic Trails, Signs Are Part of Progress

By JEAN WENK

Progress may be bigger and broader freeways for bigger and broader automobiles.

Or it may be a country road with widened dirt-shoulders where a horseman can canter in safety. To the San Ramon Valley Horsemen's Association, such a road is not only progress, but a year's work as well.

JUST A YEAR ago horse-owners in Alamo and Diablo awoke to the fact that the broad ribbons of concrete and steel called freeways were threatening to block trails in their scenic valley. Mushrooming growth of residential districts also presented a threat to the future.

At the same time they were interested in establishing and Ramon Valley organization has been allocated $2500 by Contra Costa County for its first project—the widening of shoulders along Stone Valley Road in Alamo.

This was chosen as the most pressing problem confronting local horsemen for two reasons. First, it is one leg of a riding trail which will eventually connect Mt. Diablo trails, part of the Diablo State Park system, to the riding trails in the Oakland hill parks, so that horsemen can ride from Mt. Diablo to Oakland over the rolling hills of the Las Trampas range. Other interested communities between San Ramon Valley and Oakland are presently working on their sections of these same trails. Stone Valley Road is important for another reason. The riding arena of the Danville Junior Horsemen's Association is located there, so that the road gets a double load of horse-traffic. Two warning signs at the crossing to the arena will be erected with part of the $2500, as well as other signs posted the length of the curving road.

THE LOCAL group emphasizes that this project is only the first it will tackle. From the spot where Stone Valley Road debouches into Danville Highway, the next step will be to carry trails across the Las Trampas range. Warning signs are needed on other roads. Trails must be maintained.

But this month their monthly meeting will have an air of celebration that so much has been accomplished thus far. Each month the group has a business meeting, a social get-together or a ride; on Friday, March 18, they will sponsor a get-acquainted party at the Diablo Country Club at which they will welcome interested new members, sip cocktails and dance.

Officers are Charles Curtis, president; William Trudeau, vice-president; Mrs. W. B. Sullivan, recording secretary; Mrs. William Trudeau, corresponding secretary; and Don Nelson, treasurer.

All these officers also serve on the board of directors, which numbers Lloyd Daniels, Mrs. Waldo Johannsen and W. B. Sullivan in its ranks, also.

Care to Match $5 Against $1000? Here's a Way...

How much did you pay for dental services last year?

Do you have any children with orthodonture problems? Have you considered what the total dental bill for your child will be by the time he is 15 or 16 years old?

If you give this any serious thought, you will realize that you have an investment of hundreds of dollars in your children's teeth. With orthodonture, the figure is more realistically in the thousands of dollars.

MUCH OF THE EXPENSE of dental work for children can be alleviated through the simple medium of fluoridating our water supply. It is a matter of self interest to you, as a family leader and home economist to see that fluoridation of our water supply comes to pass.

The question will be put before the voters who live within the limits of the East Bay Municipal Utility District on the June 7 ballot.

This measure could very well be defeated... both by those who are against fluoridation, by those who are misinformed, and by those who simply don't care.

IF YOU CONSIDER what you will have invested in your child's dental work by the time he is a teenager, you will readily see that any contribution you make to fluoridation now is a mere drop in the bucket... a token insurance payment.

Why not stand up and be counted now, as an individual, by writing out your check for $1, or $5, or $10.

And after you have made it out, mail it to the Alameda-Contra Costa Citizens Committee for Dental Health, Inc., Ethel Moore Memorial Building 121 East 11th St., Oakland.

Or if that is too long to remember, just mail your check to The Sun, made out to the committee, and we will gladly forward it.

THIS IS THE PLACE where your favorite organization can flourish and make a stand, also. This includes PTA's, service clubs, civic organizations — all groups which are willing to stand up and be counted in favor of this extremely important cause.

Admittedly the greater vote will come from the other side of the hills, the relative populations of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties being what they are, but nevertheless, every bit will help. After all, we drink the same water, and the cause is ours and of importance to us.

There is only one thing you can do now, and that is to give. A small investment now, in a worthwhile cause, could save you and your family literally thousands of dollars later.

No Abrupt Stops, Please...

With the completion of the Walnut Creek bypass, another link has been added to our major county thoroughfare system.

First it was the Lafayette bypass and the Orinda interchange... the Pleasant Hill freeway, and now the Walnut Creek bypass.

All of these beautiful roads mean one thing... you can get from where you are to where you want to go faster, more comfortably, and easier.

The state speed limit is now 65 miles per hour, and it is certainly easy, with the nice shiny new cars they are building, to go 65 without batting an eyelash.

But just like everything that goes up, must come down, so must everything that speeds up, slow down.

AND WHEN this deceleration process happens too swiftly, it is called an accident.

Most accidents do not happen on the freeways and the interchanges. They are well designed, and for the most part, automobiles stay where they are supposed to be. Besides, there is very little to hit excepting another automobile, and these are usually removed by some distance.

But when you get OFF the freeway, that is another matter.

Recently a problem developed at the south end of the Walnut Creek interchange, where traffic must merge to enter the two-lane Danville highway.

There has always been a problem in the Monument area of Pleasant Hill where the freeway terminates, and a similar problem exists in Orinda where signals are now being installed at the off-ramp in the down-town section.

The off-ramps leading into Lafayette have caused similar troubles, including one fatality.

Moral: Freeways may get you where you want to go, but they can't make you careful when you drive, especially when you are leaving them.

EVEN IF YOU slow down to 35, or even 30 miles per hour, you are probably going too fast for most of our roads, and of course, you are endangering yourself, your neighbor's children, and your own.

No amount of legislation or sign-posting can make a careful, responsible driver.

The problem is entirely up to you, who drive a car.

And a death which is your responsibility is not a pleasant thing with which to live out the remainder of your life.

So drive carefully, when you leave the freeways, when you are on them, and especially in our neighborhood areas. It is your adult responsibility.

A Breezy Subject, But...

There's nothing like flying a kite on a nice spring day!

The beauty of it is, that parents, just like the kids, enjoy the sport, too.

But like almost everything else, it seems, kite flying can be dangerous.

SO JUST TO BE on the safe side, here are a couple of suggestions that will make you and your children a little bit safer, if they are followed, and will allow you to enjoy yourselves without a care in the world.

Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.

Don't use tinsel-string, wire or twine with metal in it, and above all, don't fly a kite near electric power lines.

YOU SHOULD ALSO never fly a kite over radio or tv aerials, believe it or not, and of course, you should never climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.

Be careful not to run across streets or highways while flying your kite, and, of course, don't fly a kite in the rain.

The Staff Corner How Pure Is Pure Water?

By LARRY GLAZIER

The East Bay Municipal Utility District's filter plants in Lafayette and Orinda may sometimes appear meaningless to passersby or central county residents, but they actually serve a very important purpose.

Most of the drinking water within the entire district passes through the local plants before being sent into the distribution system, and Lafayette also has a terminal reservoir — one of four in the district — which receives water directly from the giant Pardee Reservoir near Stockton.

DRINKING WATER is one of the most important commodities on earth and, with this in mind, EBMUD officials recently prepared a complete report on what happens to the water before it reaches East Bay homes.

The report was prompted by a recent statement of Arthur S. Flemming, United States Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and several subsequent articles in national magazines to the effect that many water supplies in the nation are becoming dangerously polluted.

Among the pollution problems faced by American water systems, the EBMUD report lists raw sewage, industrial and agricultural chemicals, detergents and radioactive materials.

BUT THE REPORT points out with pride that the EBMUD public drinking water is free of pollution because of source protection and constant care and treatment as the water flows through the distribution system.

EBMUD, which serves 1.1 million people in the East Bay, uses the Mokelumne River as its source of water, and since 1924, the district's residents have approved bonds totaling more than $300 million for the development of the Mokelumne as pure water.

The Mokelumne water is essentially melted snow from the Sierra Nevada, and as a result water which is stored at Pardee Dam is clear, soft and uncontaminated, the report notes.

AQUEDUCTS TRANSPORT about 85 per cent of the Pardee water to the Lafayette and Orinda filter plants, where it is immediately filtered, lightly chlorinated and sent into the distribution system.

The remaining 15 per cent of the water goes to the four terminal reservoirs, including Lafayette, where it is stored until needed. On its way into the system at that time, the water passes through a five-step purification process.

The five steps of this process are source protection, long storage, purification, chlorination and laboratory control. The district stresses its belief that each of these steps, individually and collectively, is a safe and highly efficient combatant against contamination.

WHILE THE CARE which goes into the EBMUD process is not unique, the local district has one of the best overall public water supplies in the nation. When the Briones Reservoir, now under construction, is completed, the central county area will play an even more important part in the process.

We Like It Here... Notes on a Typical Home From a Senseless Taker

By MARIE MONAHAN

IN A NEW house in Suburbia amongst peaceful green hills Live a typical family— They do not have bills.

NO mortgage have they. No taxes to pay. They just sit & clip Blue Chip coupons all day. THEIR children play quietly outside in the air Just as if some photographer had posed them all there. MAMA IN her kitchen has a jet-antennae Jeeves. PAPA'S IBM robot mows the lawn, rakes the leaves. NO TV antenna roosts on their roof. Their cat has no kittens & their dog doesn't WOOF! They dine daily on filet mignons on a skewer. THEY NEVER have problems with septic or sewer.

Daddy-O never uses up all the hot water— & there's a special stereo-piped bathroom for their teen son & daughter. THIS Typical Family read all the good books. They never give each other mean dirty looks. MILLTOWNS & Martinis they never touch... & they don't go to parties... well, hardly. Not much! She never gabs & he never crabs.

She's "21"... He's "39"— For a Typical Couple, they're doing fine! HER kitchen, drip-dry, has a walk-in refig. SHE LOVES to mend socks & she NEVER plays bridge. She isn't involved in PTA work & charity drives she's managed to shirk.

ON MARCH 31, they had no household guests. They never DO. Nor do they have pests—of the garden variety. He's also president of the Moon Watcher's society. THEIR neighbors are neither nosey or noisier. Yes, they like it here fine, much better than Boise. THEIR gifted children get all A's in school... & are being rewarded with their OWN swimming pool. No one ever spills ashes or their sofas or rugs. Their roses aren't blighted by mildew or bugs. THIS TYPICAL Family never much roam— Except for their annual trip to Paris & Rome. TWO CARS, paid for in cash, sit in the garage— A couple YOU know? No, they're just a mirage!

A TREND

Dear Editor:

"... The poppy picked wilts at the touch, the bud forced into opening distorts itself in retaliation, for all of nature child us in our haste."

Our yardsticks change the farther removed we become from esthetic considerations and, in the extreme, we appreciate nothing that does not originate in Hollywood or Rockefeller square.

This tendency today becomes all the more difficult to resist because it is universal to the point of its being the accepted, the fable so often repeated that it becomes part of history.

THAT we are basically a pioneer land needing to be tamed has been so much said that this attitude remains in government and business, so much so that it is with the reluctance of authorities and business leaders that small portions of the state still remain undeveloped.

If this trend continues, we shall find ourselves in the midst of one big, dirty, sprawling city reaching from the shores of the Pacific to the peaks of the Sierras, from the limits of San Diego to the passes into Oregon, and those of us favoring another way of things will pick up and move on as graciously as we can.

To be called the biggest city in Contra Costa is a dubious distinction, to become an urban aomeba with streets, gutters, small lots and big garbage cans is even more of a questionable achievement.

In thinking charitably of the city officials making such prodigious efforts to envelop us all within the fold, I chose to believe that they are the products of this misguided compulsion to exploitation, which never fails to attract everyone of us at some time or another.

But when their errors are pointed out in the protestations of the people, and when these voices go unheeded, it becomes more difficult to remain charitable.

RAPID TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

The members of the Lafayette Oaks Association certainly appreciate the position you have taken in opposing the routing of rapid transit through the residential area of Lafayette.

Our association is now circulating a petition and is also requesting the property owners of Lafayette to write letters to the effect that the rapid transit route follow generally along the existing freeway rather than cause another "splitting of our area by going down the old Sacramento-Northern right of way."

The engineers for rapid transit seem to think that only those homeowners directly affected are opposing their planned route. This does not appear to be a fact.

The board of directors of the Lafayette Improvement Association with 15 members, of which only two live in the affected area, have unanimously opposed the proposed route. Also, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, and the Design Project Committee have gone on record in opposition to this and to my knowledge very few of those people, if any, live in the affected area.

According to the early reaction to our petitions from the outside areas of Lafayette, the great majority of homeowners are not favorable to the routing of the line through the residential district.

We hope that the property owners of Lafayette, no matter which district they reside in, will support us in preventing a routing of this line that would take out nearly 100 homes, and would materially reduce the desirability of many other homes adjacent to the route.

EDITORIALS

Dear Editor:

Your last editorial entitled "This Guy Is Nut" He Wants to Cut the Budget. certainly gets my vote for best editorial of the year.

It is my opinion that the newspapers of this county, state and nation have a responsibility to their readers to be aggressive, obnoxious (if necessary) in reporting the waste that is tolerated in every phase of government. It is also my opinion that most of the newspapers in this county, state and nation lack the guts to pursue this type of investigation until something constructive is done.

It seems as if every department head is more interested in developing waste through inefficient help, poor business methods and a host of other reasons. One of the other reasons that receives nothing more than a backward glance in several of the county departments is excessive drinking on the job. Drinking should not be tolerated on the job for any reason, but to the degree that I have witnessed on several occasions is gross negligence on the part of the department heads and elected officials.

My only justification for this tolerance by these officials is that they set the worst example for their employees to follow. Until more pressure is placed upon these practices they will continue until eternity. Most newspapers condemn the sheriff for taking fees that are legally his to take; but turn their heads away from officials, both elected and appointed, who steal the taxpayer's money as a result of inefficient work days.

Again, Editor, my vote for articles which focus attention on the real reason for high taxes.

DEAN B. SPURGEON

EDUCATION

Dear Editor:

I am very appreciative of the parents who have expressed opinions in recent letters about education. Better education is one of my main interests and I believe it is of most parents.

In writing this letter I feel I am speaking for many parents, as in talking with a number who have children in elementary, junior high and high school, we all seem to wonder what this system of pressure, hours of homework and the like is trying to achieve.

Are these children going to be intellectually much superior to our generation? (As I believe must be the dream of some). Or are they going to become discouraged, disinterested and lack the desire to attend college?

I really can't see much wrong with the intelligent and emotional adjustment of the generation we parents represent, and yet none of us can remember long written reports and other hour-consuming homework at the elementary and high school levels. College was a challenge, but I don't remember any great strain.

I also question the learning derived from a 50-70 page report. This represents an "A" grade because hours were spent in copying material or parents typing these reports. Can an elementary student absorb such quantities of information? Maybe the student who did the 10-page "C" report was really better off. Is this learning or should it better be named copying? Let's stop glamorizing our students' achievements and let them learn and feel real enjoyment in this learning process.

However, our children are in school all day (as we continue to vote new schools to avoid split sessions) so why isn't this study preparation done there instead of at home until all hours of the night by the student or the parent? Could it be the teacher has to devote too much time disciplining our children that they sacrifice teaching? Maybe we have switched roles.

I wonder about these things while driving to out-of-town libraries in a material-gathering effort. While there I meet other mothers and students who are

Under The Sun Let's Talk About Beer, Teenagers and Dances

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today let's discuss the citizen of tomorrow—the teenager of today!

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, don't turn to another column. This is not going to be a treatise on juvenile delinquency or an attack on our young people. This is your problem—whether or not you "own" some teenagers.

Let's discuss teenagers at work and play. First teenagers at play:

Five days ago I talked with a bright, sensible teenage boy, a senior in high school.

Prying into high school parties

I asked him some frank questions about drinking (alcohol, not Coke) in high school.

He answered frankly. "The kids do drink beer—not very much hard liquor."

Among the seniors, he indicated a large number of boys will participate in beer busts and even girls. He mumbled something like "20 per cent" of the girls will go on a beer party.

I asked if there were social pressures to force a student to drink. Are you a square if you don't?

He said, "No. But most of the clubs (outlawed social groups) do a lot of partying. Some kids go but do not drink or drink much."

Why? Why? Why?

I asked why do the kids have beer busts?

"What else is there to do a lot of the time," he answered.

I asked him if he thought the schools are offering enough social activities?

He answered simply, "No."

Yes, of course, I'm going to say what The Sun has been saying for 13 years: The schools (and the community) are not offering our teenagers sufficient recreation after school. I'll be more specific: We are not providing enough dances and similar activities—after night athletic events and other weekend nights.

You've heard The Sun talk of this before, so I won't go into detail. Many, many many Friday and Saturday nights during the school year there is nothing for the teenagers to do—except buy some beer or liquor and drive up Mt. Diablo or other hills. (Of course, they could do many other things, but a beer bust is exciting entertainment.)

What happens when they drive down Mt. Diablo's winding roads?

And another question:

What is the answer?

I'm not certain of the entire answer.

I realize we could offer teenagers a three-ring circus every Friday and Saturday night and still some of the kids will head for the hills. I grant that.

The starting place is right at high school, which is the heart of our community. The No. 1 need is dances after night social events—after football and basketball games. The administration, teachers, parents and parents clubs, student councils and students (this is the community) should sponsor these dances and other activities not now being conducted with enough frequency.

This, of course, means that our school board, joining with other school boards, must change the "league ruling" which prohibits social events after sports events. If the other school districts are reticent about making the change, our school board should be able to solve the problem another way.

Next — the parents

This means that parents must cooperate. The faculty should not be asked to do all the work, to furnish all the chaperones.

This means that our school faculties must not shrug off the problem—"as the community's problem, not ours." Nor should our school board (Acalanes, Mt. Diablo and San Ramon, in our areas) resort to the excuse, "We cannot do it because of the league ruling."

League rulings are voted by our schools.

I could list many excuses, valid and invalid, that are offered against taking this action.

Last January I sat down with Miramonte High Principal Jim Lewis and Acalanes Trustee Ralph Hall to discuss this. Dr. Hall sat back as Mr. Lewis and I informally debated the problem.

Then — what happened?

I'm quite certain I didn't convince Mr. Lewis. And I know he didn't convince me. His thesis (and he obviously reflects the view of some of the faculty) is — this is not the school district's job. I don't know what Dr. Hall decided after the discussion.

This problem should be considered this spring by the board of trustees of our high school district for next year. They are sincere, able people and I know they will do what is right.

Well, I've talked longer than I expected to about teenagers at play. Earlier in the column I said I would discuss jobs for teenagers during the summer. Let's talk about it next week...

lucky enough to have the family car for the afternoon. They too are trying to justify this all-out effort to meet the demands.

Let us take a good long look at the present system and then try to get down to good basic learning without depriving the children of real life experiences, such as music, religion, family unity and harmony. Let's get good teachers that teach, then pay and encourage them. We can be the fortress in back, but as parents.

I am reminded of an inscription over the library door of one of our fine Western colleges: "They know enough who know to learn." Can't we teach our children to learn, how to read, think and analyze—then give them the desire to seek and find?

She Serves Through Junior Women's Club

By JEAN JERNIGAN

After eight years of community service through the Junior Women's Club of Walnut Creek, Mrs. H. C. Hemstalk still serves with a refreshing enthusiasm contagious to her fellow clubwomen.

Service with the Juniors began for Jean Hemstalk, who lives at 448 Nob Hill Road, in 1952 when a friend invited her to attend a meeting.

She went, she liked what she saw and heard, and has been active with the juniors ever since. Her service has included holding every office except that of treasurer, including finance chairman for 1959 and recording secretary for the Mt. Diablo District.

"I THINK just seeing what a group of women can accomplish to better a community has been my most rewarding experience with the juniors," she remarked.

As president, Mrs. Hemstalk finds she has a "full time" job. Automatically chairman of all committees, she must also represent the club at district and state conventions. Next month she will go to Los Angeles for the state meeting, and this month to Antioch for the district meeting.

Sandwiched in her full schedule is also service as treasurer of the Walnut Creek Library Association. This is closely allied to her work with the juniors, as the club is working to furnish the children's room in the new library.

AT HOME in Walnut Creek for 13 years, it was not surprising that one of Mrs. Hemstalk's many friends encouraged her to join the juniors.

Her advice to the hundreds of young women who have made Walnut Creek their home in the recent years of rapid growth, who are interested in joining the juniors, is to get in touch with one of the officers.

"I know there must be many newcomers who would like to join, but aren't sure just what steps to take. Our membership is open to Walnut Creek women who are under 35. Those interested may call me, or any of our officers whose names are listed with the Chamber of Commerce.

"WE WILL be happy to welcome prospective members at any of our meetings. One prerequisite for membership is that the candidate attend one social and one business meeting," she advised.

Married at 17, Jean Hemstalk and her husband have two sons, Bob 12, and Kip who is six. "I have always budgeted my time carefully," she remarked, "in order to do all the things that I want to do with my family and still be able to participate in the juniors. Our phone has always rung constantly, for I am my husband's bookkeeper."

ASKED ABOUT HER youthful marriage, she remarked, "Actually I am against them, but my husband was older and ours has been very successful. I feel much depends on the maturity of the person and how he or she adjusts to marriage. Girls who marry young do miss a lot of fun and if I had to do it over I think I would probably wait a couple of years."

With sons Bob, who is in the seventh grade at Walnut Creek School and wants to be an engineer and Kip who is in kindergarten at Walnut Heights, the Hemstalks have hours of family fun water skiing and bowling.

"We don't actually do too much in the way of going places or entertaining," she said. "We enjoy being together here at home."

Home is made complete with two dogs, Duke and To To and a cat named Fluffy.

District Federation Women's Clubs Convene

The Fourth Annual Convention of Mt. Diablo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs was held at the Concord Inn on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Elliott P. Smart, president, conducted the meeting. Theme for the convention was "Progress Through Action." Mrs. Dee Sheneman was general chairman and Mrs. Manuel Nunes was credential chairman.

All chairmen and presidents of the clubs in the District gave annual reports. The luncheon on Wednesday honored the District Chairmen. Mt. Diablo Women's Club was hostess. Speaker at the afternoon session was Dr. Jack Finegan of the Pacific School of Religion. The annual banquet held Wednesday evening honored the State and District Officers, State Chairmen and past district presidents. The Women's Club of Walnut Creek was hostess for the dinner.

Election of District officers was held on Thursday. A luncheon honoring the District club presidents preceded the installation of the newly elected officers at the afternoon session.

Engagement Announced at Family Dinner

An open house and buffet dinner for close friends and relatives was the occasion chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burton of 4006 Natasha Drive, Lafayette, to reveal the engagement of their daughter Laura to Twain Marsan.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Acalanes High School and attended Diablo Valley College and Chico State College. She was affiliated with Alpha Chi Sorority at Chico.

Her fiancé is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Allan Marsan of 63 Terrace Road, Walnut Creek. He is a graduate of Acalanes High School and San Francisco City College where he received his degree in hotel restaurant management.

The couple have chosen September 18 for their wedding day.

Royal Teens to Present Many Fashions at Show

An international flavor, with the accent on the French, will prevail at the first fashion show sponsored by the "Royal Teens" of Christ the King Catholic Church in Pleasant Hill when they present "Holidays for Teens," April 30, at 1:30 p.m. in the parish auditorium.

More than 40 high school classes from freshman through senior year will display casual, travel, and formal attire from three local stores.

Modeling chores will be performed in an atmosphere of a Parisian sidewalk cafe against a backdrop depicting the skyline of the French city.

Male members will usher the models onto the stage, clad in the colorful garb of French sailors.

The international theme will be repeated in the table decor and in the cuisine for the afternoon affair, with feminine members of the Royal Teens serving as hostesses.

Plans for their first major fund-raising event which will benefit the school building program are being formulated by the teenagers themselves with some assistance from the parents, according to Mrs. John J. McNally, coordinator for the group.

Under the guidance of their moderator, Reverend Cornelius P. DeGroot, the club's officers planning the affair include Steve Palko, Kathy Fairbanks, Sandy Hoeffner and Judy Canale.

P-H Garden Center

The Sun's Annual Spring Home and Garden Edition

Brazen Hussy of Garden Is the Flowering Quince

Modesty is not one of the attributes of the Flowering Quince. In fact, this bold extravagantly beautiful shrub might be called the "brazen hussy" of the garden.

As such, it enlivens the winter scene in a way that delights gardeners all over the state.

The California Association of Nurserymen reminds us that the Flowering Quince is one of the earliest of the deciduous flowering shrubs to put on a show of color.

AND SUCH an exhibition — doubly welcome when other flowers are scarce in the garden.

When the leaves are dropped, the flowering branches take on an oriental appearance that further endears them to the home flower arranger.

Thanks to extensive hybridizing, the Flowering Quince of today comes to us in an exciting range of color from white through every shade of pink, pink and white combinations and the most vivid reds.

Large clusters of flowers open in succession sometimes producing two or even three series of blooms in the spring.

CLARKE'S GIANT Red is a standout among the newer quinces as is Cameo, a glowing apricot pink. Red Ruffles is another favorite, very ruffled as befitting its name with large petals of dazzling red.

IT DOESN'T MATTER. If it is small enough to come in a pot, or if it is tree-size, chances are your local nurseryman has it! Showing off an example of the former is Robert Waschmirth, manager of Moraga Valley Nursery, where there is a good selection of all things plantable... and the materials with which to plant them, too! — Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Fruit Trees Will Hail '60 Spring

If you would signal spring with a glorious burst of color in your garden, plant flowering fruit trees.

Like no other shrubs or trees, they awaken from winter's sleep in a sudden show of bloom.

Their spectacle of bare branches coming to life in a riot of color is something to behold.

Most of these showpieces are bred for bloom alone, producing small fruit if any at all. But recently introduced flowering-fruited peaches pave the way for similar advances among cherries and plums or apricots.

Peach varieties Altair, Two-Star, Three-Star and Four-Star all succeed in combining a nice flush of bloom with a later crop of fruit.

More recently the variety Saturn has drawn raves for its dual function of producing showy double bloom and luscious peaches too.

Where the gardener is interested only in flower, the old favorites such as Helen Borchers, Peppermint Stick and those double whites and double reds still put on their annual spring show.

Flowering peaches are considered by many members of the California Association of Nurserymen to be among the most versatile of all flowering fruits since they do equally well in both northern and southern California.

Planting Citrus In Tub Easy

When planting your dwarf citrus in a tub, use regular top soil and peat moss in about equal parts. Set your new plant no deeper than it was in the nursery can and firm the soil around it. Then water thoroughly and see to it that plenty of water is available in the first weeks.

Dwarf Trees Answer for Small Garden

Few pleasures of the garden are more tangible than growing fruit trees. You not only see the results, you eat them. And what a treat.

Many gardens are just small enough, though, to discourage planting a home orchard of conventional-size trees — or more than one tree at best. Which is why members of the California Association of Nurserymen have encouraged the development of dwarf fruit stock. Today you can have an orchard of varied trees in a limited space.

Before going further, let it be understood here and now that Dwarf Fruit trees do not bear dwarf fruit. Only the tree itself is dwarf and you get standard size peaches, pears, apples or what

Also, it would be well to point out that the deciduous dwarf fruits are not as dwarf as their counterparts among citrus trees. They are not, as the citrus are, ornamental specimens that can be tubbed for patio decoration. Their primary function is to produce a lot of fruit in a limited space and this they do admirably.

The Sun Home and Garden Edition

Your Garden

No Sight Is Lovelier Than a Cascading Plant

Can you name a more appealing sight in any garden than a blooming plant that cascades its color over the edge of a wall or spills it over the rim of a suspended container? Name it and you can have it. To us there is no sight more lovely.

For this alone it would be worth seeking a house with one or more retaining walls to landscape. And if you garden on the level, it's worth installing some raised planters just to see the contents tumbling down. Hanging baskets are to be planted whatever the contour of your land.

LIKE ANY gardener with a bug for some particular phase of gardening, we have special favorites among trailing plants. A member of the California Association of Nurserymen can show you more than we'll consider here, but we'd bet a nickel he has his favorites, too.

The little-used Ground Morning Glory is near the top of our list of trailing perennials. It is well behaved despite its name and sends its gray-green foliage tumbling over a wall to show the inch-wide blue flowers all summer into fall. Use it in full sun and water when you get around to it.

In pots, hanging baskets or atop a wall, the Italian Bellflower spews its myriad of star-shaped little blooms of white or blue. Give it more water than Ground Morning Glory and perhaps a little more shade for most appeal.

THE AUSTRALIAN Bluebell has much to recommend it. Gardeners who have not grown it are sure to wonder what took them so long to start. Masses of small blue bells grace this trailer through summer. Excellent for retaining walls, fine for planters and pots, it takes some shade as it is grown away from the coast.

A few dozen annual trailing lobelia will go far to make life worth living. Use them either in baskets, planters, or raised beds for the tiny, glowing blue blooms. Such trailers as Begonias, Ivy Geraniums and Fuchsias need no introduction here. Such is their worth that few, if any, gardeners haven't grown them.

Gardeners Swear by Clematis

Gardeners who grow Clematis swear by it.

They like the lacy structure of its growth, the masses of colorful blooms in spring or summer and the ease with which they can be fit into gardens large and small.

Grow Clematis yourself and you'll agree that there's always room for one in the garden.

In northern California, where Clematis is best adapted, members of the California Association of Nurserymen offer a good selection of deciduous varieties in addition to ever more popular Armandi Clematis, the evergreen which landscapers find so irresistible.

If you have a fence, a post or trellis, an arbor or merely a clothesline support, you can enhance its appearance with one of these lovely vines.

The evergreen Armandi Clematis is unrivaled as a topping for fences or eaves where its pendulous, eucalyptus-shaped leaves are attractive all year, and its myriad starry white blooms smother the foliage in spring.

You can expect some 20 feet of growth from this clematis and care should be taken to lead it where you want it to grow by tying it gently with string.

Try a Hedge That Blooms

When someone mentions a hedge, do your thoughts turn automatically to a clipped row of green? To Privet and Boxwood, or possibly Pittosporum? If they do, you may be missing a clue to beauty in your garden. A clue to the beauty of informal flowering hedges.

Of great importance for this use are a trio of flowering-fruited shrubs whose ornamental merit is well established. We speak of the gray-green Pineapple Guava, with its waxy, white petals and prominent crimson stamens; of the refreshingly delicate Pomegranate and of the near ever-blooming Natal Plum.

Dwarf Citrus Is Successful in Nearly All Areas

Not many years back, a gardener who asked his nurseryman, "Can I plant an orange tree in my garden?" would get the answer: "I don't know. How big is your garden?" Today, thanks to the wonderful development of dwarf citrus, the answer is a simple, "Sure you can."

And the best part is that the answer holds true even in areas where climate might ordinarily discourage a would-be orchardist who would like to harvest edible oranges.

IN COOL climates, members of the California Association of Nurserymen plant dwarf citrus up snugly against a south or west wall to trap reflected heat and compensate for any lack nature hasn't filled.

There are still areas, we have to admit, where all the heat you can trap is not sufficient to ripen a grapefruit, but then, the big ornamental fruit are so showy on dwarf trees it seems a shame to eat them anyway.

The propagation of dwarf citrus has reached a place today where your choice is nearly unlimited. Just about any citrus variety that is grown on full size stock is also available in dwarf stock. This includes several varieties of orange and commercial lemons, not just the more familiar dwarf Meyer lemon.

CROP SIZE is admittedly smaller on the dwarfs (you can't have everything), but the amount you can harvest often defies the imagination when you consider the size shrub it comes from. You won't keep a family in orange juice all year from a single tree, but you'll give them many a delicacy to munch on.

If you have room and hanker to plant a full size tree or two, by all means go ahead. As a backdrop, you'll have a hard time finding anything lovelier than a row of orange trees in full crop. And a single lemon can be a near year-round provider.

BLOOMS LIKE THESE are easy, explains Stewart Wade of Orchard Nursery to Mrs. Gene Schurleff, who is already envisioning such flowers growing in her yard. Chances are if you take the advice of an experienced nurseryman like Wade, it won't be so hard, either. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Nurserymen Give Hints For Improving Soils

There's an old saying to the effect that you can't grow hair on a billiard ball. Nor, you might add, can one grow grass on cement. Which is just about the state of the adobe soils in some California gardens.

We'd bet a nickel that compacted soil causes more frustration to would be Luther Burbanks than any single factor in California. And more's the pity when it's really so easy to remedy. A little work will go a long, long way toward increasing your pleasures with gardening.

If, however, you add humus to compacted soil when you turn it, improvement is marked. The more you add, the greater the improvement. Nutrients that were locked in by compaction are released. Plants begin to thrive.

What do you add? Well, three soil experts could give you three answers and all be right. Manure is the classic humus builder and still one of the best. Peat moss is fine where an acid reaction is desired. Compost is fine and dandy, but how many of us take time to build compost these busy days?

THE NEW commercial soil conditioners are fine for keeping soil in shape. Add these along with one of the humus builders mentioned above and you can't go wrong.

What the commercial preparations do is to keep the soil from returning to its compacted condition after you have worked it over.

Color—Key To Modern Kitchen Styling

Color, the key to modern home styling, can unlock unexpected beauty in your kitchen. What colors can you use? The only limit is your own imagination, says famous New York color-stylist Beatrice West. Just pick your favorite color, and your kitchen can be styled around it. Or use your appliance colors as a starting point, says Miss West. For example, here are four attractive plans prepared by Miss West and keyed to the standard colors of Caloric gas appliances:

Want luxurious, yet cheerful kitchen? Miss West suggests gleaming satin chrome appliances, surrounded with a subtle blend of yellows and grays. A floor covering of straw yellow; charcoal countertop; and accent colors of bronze and slate will create the right effect.

Or, says Miss West, start with yellow—the happy color—for appliances and countertop; white cabinets; rich gray for the floor covering; with almond and olive for accents.

If you prefer a warm, homey kitchen, says Miss West, consider the subdued colors of harvest time for the floor coverings, wallpaper and paint; gentle Caloric copper tones for appliances; pumpkin tones for the countertop; all highlighted with accents of pale mustard and peacock.

For a bright, colorful effect, Miss West suggests a kitchen keyed to pink appliances. Use lipstick red for the countertop, white cabinets, accents of pastel carnation and green, a black floor covering, with a print wallpaper that includes white and the accent colors.

Roses Come In Varieties

Rosarians are forever uprooting the old to make way for the new, and with the annual influx of choice introductions, they are forced to decide what goes and what stays. In every rose garden, however, there is a hard core of favorite old varieties which are not to be pre-empted by any newcomer.

The budding rosarian would do well to check some of these varieties for planting in his garden along with newer roses which are bound to land there. Accordingly, we asked the California Association of Nurserymen to supply us with a list of all-time favorites. The only requisite: The rose recommended must have been introduced prior to 1955.

PEACE, the lovely yellow rose with shadings of cream and pink, is A-1 number one. The nursery men say it's hard to find a better rose for all climates. Charlotte Armstrong ranks right behind. An All-America selection back in 1941, its tapering buds and lovely carmine colorings are still popular. It is worthy of note that this year's AA winner, Garden Party, is a cross between these two.

Other AA roses of yesterday that are still today's favorites are: The lovely apricot-pink Helen Traubel, the golden-yellow Sutter's Gold, the striking orange Mojave, the glowing pink Tiffany, and the stately dark red Chrysler Imperial.

AMONG the ever-popular floribundas are such as Floradora, an eye-catching orange-red, dainty pink Lilibet, the pink-to-gold Ma Perkins, coral-red Jiminy Cricket and Fashion, a peach-colored orange rose.

Structural Forms Enhance a Garden

As every gardener knows, there is more to gardening than the growing of plants. For without the proper setting, even the most exotic plant material can be wasted.

It behooves the gardener, therefore, to get himself a design for gardening—an overall plan or goal which he can work toward over the years and find satisfaction in achieving a little at a time.

One of the surest ways to enhance a garden is to make use of structural forms. Structure in the garden is often just the thing to make up for nature's shortcomings—or the shortcomings of those who planned your garden to begin with.

Such structure can be as simple or as elaborate as you wish. The California Association of Nurserymen claims that merely adding a redwood border around flowerbeds will enhance the effect of flowers.

Try it with a bed of winter annuals and see for yourself. On the elaborate side, possible projects to include in your design are an enlarged patio, a spacious deck or a garden pool.

Sun decks have proved most effective in adding dimension to hillside gardens. A deck increases the usable space of sloping lots, decreases the problem of landscape on an irregular contour.

At the same time, decks should not be considered the exclusive property of hillside home owners. We've seen them used to good effect on level homesites, especially in older homes that have their first floor several feet off the ground. A deck with a few tubbed plants will tie house and garden together.

In more modern homes, the transition from house to garden is often abrupt despite the fact that both are on the same level. Here, a roomy, landscaped patio can end this abruptness and lend new pleasure to living.

The possibilities are countless as any landscape expert can tell you. The important thing is that you choose a plan for gardening—ask your nurserymen to suggest ideas—then work and plant toward it.

Rock Gardening Is Akin to Sculpturing

Rock gardening in its classic sense is akin to sculpturing. It is an artificial relief, created from ground up with varying degrees of artistic success by enthusiastic gardeners.

In California, rock gardening more often denotes making the best use of naturally rugged terrain. The Californian, especially in coastal and foothill gardens, is often confronted with a rocky hillside or a newly cut embankment to landscape. And this he proceeds to do with a proper choice of plant material.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that gardeners who lack the natural terrain to do their rock gardening can have fun and challenge by building—as in the classic sense—an artificial mound of earth and stone.

IN EITHER case, plant material can be much the same, what you plant depending mainly on how easily the area can be watered. Rock gardens of limited water supply are best handled with natives and other drought resistant plants. Keep them low to tie in with the terrain.

In any situation, we find the dwarf conifers ideal rock garden subjects. They stand attention or lack of it and always blend beautifully with rocks. Nurserymen offer a selection of these—dwarf Junipers and the shrubby Mugho Pine being among the most useful.

Look, too, for such durable and compact growers as Lavender or Rosemary. Annuals can play an important role, also. Alyssum is especially good for naturalizing effects around rocks. Lobelia in season and Dwarf Marigold add color and cover in their turn.

We'd not overlook succulents by any means. Many hobbyists build their rock gardens around succulents. Nor can the importance of bulbs be ignored, though you'll have to wait until fall to plant most of them. A check at any nursery is sure to turn up other good material—enough, perhaps, to make you a rock gardening devotee like so many of us already are.

Dwarf Citrus Is Delight

Any way you look at it, dwarf citrus is a gardener's delight. Its colorful fruit, so wonderfully out of proportion to the size of the tree, is an asset in the ornamental garden or the patio.

Its blossoms are often tantalizingly fragrant and its clean, glossy foliage is always pleasant. What more could you ask?

Dwarf citrus is adaptable to either ground or container planting, too, which adds to its usefulness in the home garden. In the ground, most varieties will eventually grow to eight feet high with an equal spread, but they take years to do it.

Make It Warm With Wood

Lucky is the housewife with a modern kitchen that provides good storage space and also has an air of warmth. Though these attributes seem unrelated, they really go hand in hand since you can have both in a kitchen simply by using wood.

The Western Pine Association reports that wooden cabinets are becoming increasingly popular in kitchens. They may be used in conjunction with lumber paneling or not, depending in part upon the size of your kitchen. Furthermore, while many home-owners prefer the traditional treatments generally associated with lumber built-ins and wall or ceiling paneling, others are trying unusual installations and different finishes to achieve a contemporary effect. Today, for example, many people are using pigmented finishes and are installing paneling in unusual patterns such as herringbone and diagonal.

Built-ins can fill a wide variety of functions and provide many refinements beyond ordinary shelf, cupboard and closet storage.

Cabinets for china, glassware, canned goods, and the like are a starting point, but you may wish to build a special cupboard to house your electric mixer or blender, a bin near the back door for rubbers and galoshes, a closet for other rainy day gear or coats, or simply small cabinets, fitted in where space allows, to hold brushes, cleansers, canned goods, condiments, or other kitchen essentials.

Some of the most readily available lumber and paneling for such a project comes from the western pine region. The ten species from the area are ideal for built-ins, walls and ceilings because they are easy to work with and will take any finish you may prefer.

Shaded Roses Will Never Grow Up, Big and Strong

The thing to remember about roses is that you can't get good results if you plant them in the shade.

They like sun and plenty of it, the exception being that some midday shade is acceptable, even desirable, on blazing summer days.

So in choosing the proper bed for new roses, shun shading trees and walls except as noted above. Poor soil you can improve, but exposure you cannot unless you cut or tear shade-giving offender down.

WHEN THE site has been selected, you are ready to embark on a project that will provide you with pleasure for years to come. From the selection of bare-root stock at the nursery through watching them break their leaf buds to developing flower buds and finally bursting gorgeous blooms, rose growing is as fascinating and rewarding a pastime as the gardener can enjoy.

A member of the California Association of Nurserymen can show you pictures of the top roses.

Make your selection with an ear to his recommendations, since he knows which roses are extra special in your climate. Get them home and in the ground preferably the same day.

IF DELAY is inevitable, "heel" the plants in by burying them in moist earth until planting time.

Dig a hole that is more than adequate to accommodate the roots spread out. Best practice calls for mixing the soil you remove from the hole with peat moss or manure or both.

Mound some of this mix up in the hole to support the new bush, then start filling in around the roots.

Planting depth should be high enough so that the bud union is just above soil level. No need to protect this union with earth in California's mild winter climates.

The plant should be firmed in with the heel of your shoe and then watered well. A basin around each plant will be necessary to insure thorough soaking. That's all there is to it for now. Spraying and feeding come later, but that's another story.

Bigger, Better Rose Blooms Rely On Feeding Now

Items for the gardener to check this week include:

When first buds start forming, feedings in the rose garden bring better and better blooms in May. Ample water is just as important.

Plant dahlias and gladioli. Begonia seedlings will show up in nurseries this month.

Check irrigation basins around citrus. Soil should be mounded to keep water from direct contact with the tree.

The list of annuals for planting this month is long as your arm. Check nurseries for ideas.

Bait for snails and slugs. Spray for aphids, thrips and leaf hoppers on roses. Insect control is easy when you start before they do.

Don Trackmen Finish Third in San Ramon Relays

Alhambra walked off with the top trophy in the San Ramon relays held at Danville Saturday, as they amassed 32 5/6 points while winning four of the 12 events on the program.

The meet, featuring all members of the Foothill Division plus Alhambra and Albany of the East Bay Circuit, found the rest of the teams finishing as follows: Piedmont 30, Acalanes 29-5/6, San Ramon 22-1/3, Las Lomas 14 and Miramonte 8.

IN THE BEE COMPETITION Piedmont wound up first with 47-1/2 points, while Acalanes had 30 1/2, Del Valle 20, Miramonte 20, San Ramon 19-1/3 and Alhambra 0.

Coach Jim Coulter of Alhambra had only one Bee entry as he moved his performers up to the varsity competition and he made it pay off.

The events were all run on a relay basis consisting of the total performance of four entries from each school.

Jerry Green of Alhambra posted the season's best in the high jump as he cleared 6-2 to lead his teammates to the win. In the pole vault three competitors cleared 11-6. They were Green of Alhambra, Tim Scott of Acalanes and Kent Brewer of San Ramon.

OTHER TOP INDIVIDUAL performances were set by Dave Dornisfe with a 50-2 1/2 in the shot and a 139-1 heave in the discus event by Piedmont's Doug McVean.

In the Bees the meet's best performance came in the 10-pound shot event when Jim Livingstone of Piedmont hit 49-2, Bob Sundstrom of Acalanes 40-6 1/2 and Kent Miller of Miramonte reached 40 even.

Individual varsity meet results:

FIRST PLACES: 280 high hurdles—tie between San Ramon (Gurley, B r e w e r, Wainwright, Johnson), and Piedmont (Albert Pfeffer, Ryan, Huongin); 40-2; 440—Acalanes (Corse, Schwartz, LaRossa, C. Rinne); 45-1; medley—Miramonte (Howe, Neighbor, Caldwell, Deubner); 10:57-4; 488 low hurdles—Alhambra (T. Hogan, Viglienza, DiMaggio and Hanna); 59-1.

Pleasant Hill's Swimmers Win

The Pleasant Hill varsity swimmers paddled their way to an impressive 66-29 win over Antioch last Friday while the Ram Bees won 44-33.

The Rams had the meet's only double winner in the varsity competition as Paul Murphy copped the 400-yard free style as well as the 100-yard free style events.

Varsity first place winners: 400-yard free—P. Murphy (PH); 4:56-7; 50-free—Brenner (PH); 25-4; 100-fly—Cooley (A); 1:10-5; 200-free—P. Murphy (PH); 2:16-4; 100-back—Erickson (PH); 1:09-0; 100-breast—Sipes (PH); 1:14-1; 100-free—Pitek (A); 1:02-8; diving—Bastista (A); 200-I.M.—Wissack (PH); 2:29-7; 200-M.R.—Pleasant Hill (Erickson-Winter, D. Night Vigil Pays Off in Game Ducats

Bud Turner is a 'red hot' sports fan and he proved it once again Monday when he stayed up half the night to get four tickets to the San Francisco Giants' opening game Tuesday with St. Louis.

Bud, just returned from a job on the ski patrol at a mountain winter resort, got his place in line for the final sale of tickets when he arrived at Candlestick Park in San Francisco at 3 a.m. last Monday morning.

THIRTY-TWO WERE ahead of him and he received number 33 from the officer in charge which enabled him to sleep a few winks in his car prior to the ticket office opening.

Bud, an avid sportsman, attended last year's opener and chances are he will be on hand for many to come.

A popular graduate of Acalanes High, he took a tour of duty with Uncle Sam's paratroopers where he played a good deal of service football and then did grid duty while attending Diablo Valley College.

He lives at present with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cy Turner, at 3465 Moraga Boulevard.

Large Field Will Open Orinda Tennis Tournney

Nearly 300 of northern California's top young tennis players will open play Monday morning in the third annual Orinda Junior Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the Orinda Country Club.

The tournament, which will continue through Friday afternoon, is sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association and the Northern California Tennis Association. A total of 18 titles, both on the singles and doubles levels, are at stake.

KEVIN MERRICK, tournament manager, said a record total of 140 out-of-town players from throughout northern California are being housed by local residents, and the housing includes suppers and transportation.

The 290 competitors who have registered will attack the nets for 171 individual singles matches Monday, and the doubles competition will open on Tuesday. The tournament is single elimination in character, and finals will be held early Friday afternoon, with trophies presented at that time.

A special attraction this year will be the appearance of Charles Trippie, a foreign exchange student from England, who will compete in the junior boys singles and doubles. Trippie, who is a seeded player in England, is one of the mainstays of the Acalanes High School net team and plays out of the Orinda Country Club now.

BECAUSE TRIPPE did not play in the tournament last year, he is seeded only sixth. Last year's junior champ, Tom Edleisen, is no longer in the competition and Trippie is highly favored to grab the crown.

Many local eyes will be focused on the play of 10-year-old Lynne Abbes of Orinda, who is seeded first in the girls' 11 singles and fourth in the girls' 13 singles.

Lynne, ranked No. 2 in her division by the NCTA, defeated the No. 1 ranking girl in a recent meet at Vallejo, where the Orinda lass walked off with all the honors.

THE BROTHER-SISTER team of Judy and Gerry Hopkins is another hope of the local crowd, Judy is seeded seventh in the girls' 18 and Gerry holds an identical seeding in the boys' 15.

An additional highlight of the five-day tourney will be a gala dinner-dance for the participants, to be held at the Orinda Country Club Tuesday evening.

Play will be on 22 courts, including those at the host club and Acalanes and Miramonte high schools. Local private courts which have been donated include those of Charles Ivy, Miller Freeman Jr., Barnard Rocca, William Brobeck, Dr. John Gompertz, Robert Bridges, T. M. Harter, Stuart Davis, Oliver Hamlin, Dr. Miles Hudson and E. J. Day.

All play is open to the public, free of charge.

Pardee Area Open Again For Summer

Pardee Recreation Area reopened last week on a new, summer schedule.

Facilities at the East Bay Municipal Utility District's giant reservoir on the Mokelumne River will be open Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays through October 1.

THE NEW OPERATING schedule has the approval of the State Department of Fish and Game and the State Wildlife Conservation Board.

Perched on the rim of breathtaking Pardee Reservoir in the Sierra foothills, 38 miles northeast of Stockton, the recreation area is designed to provide fun for the whole family.

There is a mammoth boat-launching ramp, barbecue grilles, picnic tables, hot and cold showers, a softball diamond, a badminton court, horseshoe pits and a children's playground. Sandwiches and cold drinks will be available at the bait shop.

A large portion of the 68-billion-gallon reservoir is open for boating and fishing. The lake is stocked with black bass, redeared sunfish, white catfish, trout, carp and squawfish.

FIFTY CAMP SITES for tents and trailers are available at the nominal fee of $1 per night.

The entrance fee at Pardee is only 50 cents per car, with an additional 50-cent charge for the use of a picnic table and grille.

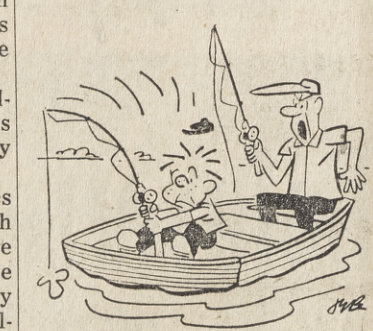

Boat registration and inspection fee is $1.50 per day for rowboats, sailboats or outboard motor boats; $2 per inboard motor boat. Boats may be rented for $4 per day or $1.50 per hour; motors for $5 a day, $1.50 an hour.

Knight Swimmers Keep on Winning

College Golfer Ties for First In Golf Tourney

Young Bill Helfrich, student at Diablo Valley College, showed the way with a snappy 69 when he combined with partner Jim Bos to tie for the first-round lead in the Diablo Country Club's two-man bestball championship Sunday.

Helfrich, a three handicapper, and Bos, a 16, racked up a 58 to deadlock four other teams in the first leg of the 54-hole tournament.

THE OTHER leaders were Bob Allen-Russ Hufft, Bill Houston-Mezz Neumann, Frank Ivaldi-Art Brown, and Jack Hudspeth-Lou Raffatto.

Best shot of the day was turned in by Ralph MacDuff, who had a set zero on the 404-yard ninth hole. His second shot with a wood went into the cup, but it failed to help his side take the lead. He and his partner Bill Owsley had a net 62.

Second and third rounds of the event will be held this weekend.

OTHER RESULTS: Charles Gwynn-Terry Ring, 59; Bob Lehman-Bob Hammond, 59; Harry Bello-Larry Moore, 60; Hal Caldwell-Jack Davis, 60; Allen Hart-Woody Woodman, 60.

Knight Mermen Trounce Alhambra

The Las Lomas swim team, winning every varsity first place but two and every first place, swept past the Alhambra Bulldogs in a swim meet held last Friday at the Las Lomas pool.

The final tally sheet gave the Knights a 68-27 varsity win and a 66-11 margin in the Bee meet.

Varsity winners were as follows:

400-free—Whipple (LL); 4:59-2; 50-free—Corazza (A); 25-5; 100-fly—Ostrom (LL); 59-7; 200-free—Pomeroy (LL); 2:17-1; 100-back—J. Strand (LL); 1:00-5; 100-breast—B. Strand (LL); 1:14; 100-free—Collins (A); 53-0; diving—Theuriet (LL); 185-95; 200-I.M.—B. Strand; 2:24-7; 200-M.—Las Lomas; 1:56-5; 200-free relay—Acalanes; 1:39-3.

Acalanes Pitchers Throw No-Hitter

Mats Continue Winning Ways to Defeat Piedmont

The Miramonte Matadors upset the Piedmont Clan, 11-0, in a Foothill Division baseball game played at Orinda last Thursday.

Jim Tonascia, son of the Piedmont coach, was on the hill for the Mats and he really closed the door as he gave up but five hits in turning the tables on the visitors.

MIRAMONTE WAS off to a flying start as they chalked up five runs in the first, three in the second and another three in the sixth, while collecting 11 hits.

Piedmont added to their troubles with seven errors to the Matadors' one.

Catcher Bill Hilger was the big stick for the winners as he drove in five runs while cracking out a pair of singles, a double and a triple.

BOB JONES with a pair of singles topped the Clan hitters. Batteries: Miramonte—Tonascia and Hilger; Piedmont—Ross, White (2) and Rawley.

Rams Drop Shoddy Game To Eagles

The Clayton Valley Eagles, playing at home Tuesday afternoon, pinned an 8-4 defeat on the Pleasant Hill Rams in a Contra Costa Division game.

The Eagles took the lead in the third inning when they posted four big runs.

The runs came on three walks, a pair of errors and a lone single. The single drove in one while a bases loaded walk added another, while a pair of squeeze bunts added another two runs to make a grand total of four for the frame.

THE EAGLES added three more runs in the fourth inning to bring the count to 7-0.

The Rams made their bid in the top of the sixth when they scored their four runs.

Fred Lucero walked and reached second on a wild pitch and tallied as Dave Shepherd rapped a single to center.

Nick Lujans was on when hit by a pitched ball that automatically put Shepherd on second.

JIM HARRISON followed with a ground ball to first and on an attempted double play the ball was thrown wild with Shepherd scoring and Harrison winding up on third.

Don Lindan went down swinging for out number one. Bill Howerton grounded to the first baseman who relayed it to the pitcher at first for the putout.

The pitcher, thinking there were three outs, rolled the ball to the infield and Harrison scrambled home. That ended the Rams' scoring with the Eagles getting the game's only other run in the bottom of the sixth.

IT WAS a low hitting contest as Clayton Valley wound up with four hits to the Rams' three. Clayton Valley had two errors, Pleasant Hill five.

Batteries: Clayton Valley—Synder and Bankhead; Pleasant Hill—Juarez and Kishi (4), Turney (6) and Howerton.

DVC Vikings Win In Three Sports

Diablo Valley College won three out of four sports events last weekend to remain among the leaders in the league, and another full weekend of activity is in store before Easter vacation begins Monday.

The Vikings hosted the Foothill College golf team of Los Altos on Monday at the Contra Costa Country Club and walked off with a 13 1/2-1 1/2 victory. The Vikings' No. 1 man, Bob Heaton, fired a 69 and he was aided by Bill Helfrich 72, Jeff Busby 75, Ned Ballinger 72 and Chip Peacock 76 in the win.

At the Pleasant Hill courts last Saturday the Diablo Valley netters downed Monterey Peninsula College, 6-1.

In golf and tennis, the Vikings now have identical 4-0 conference records.

The Vikings also defeated Vallejo at Vallejo in baseball Saturday, 6-3, behind the five-hit pitching and clutch hitting of Bob Carey.

All 16 hits in the game (11 for the locals) were singles.

Diablo Valley's only loss was in track, where they were at the bottom of the rung in a three-way meet at Monterey Peninsula. The third team was San Jose City College.

Toll, Strain Combine to Defeat Las Lomas, 3-1

Denny Toll and Tom Strain combined their pitching to throw a 3-1 no-hitter at the Las Lomas Knights in a league game played at Acalanes High last Thursday.

A pair of errors and a sacrifice bunt paved the way for the Knights to score and take a 1-0 lead in the second inning.

Bob Samuels reached first on an error and was sacrificed to second by Mike Brelean. Samuels scored when a ground ball to second off the bat of Dick Couch was booted.

TOLL ON THE MOUND for the Dons retired the side without any further scoring.

The Dons came back in the bottom of the second to ice the game with three runs of their own.

Lon Cosso and Lou Pejovich hit a pair of singles and both scored when hit balls off the bats of Jim Holden and Toll were bobbled. Holden raced home with the game's final score when Gary Brekke hit into a fielder's choice.

Toll worked the first four innings for the Dons as he set the Knights down in apple pie order most of the way, only to load the bags in the fifth with a hit batter and a pair of walks.

TOM STRAIN came in to put out the fire, striking out two and getting the all important third out on a pop up. Acalanes gathered five hits over the seven inning route with Pejovich setting the pace with a pair of singles.

The Knights wound up with three errors, to the Dons' two.

Batteries: Acalanes—Toll, Strain (5) and Cosso; Las Lomas—Remy and Stephenson.

Diablo Valley Hosts Tennis Event Tonight

The top tennis talent in the Bay Area will be gathered in the Diablo Valley College gym tonight for a program of competition and instruction.

The competition will be highlighted by a match between Cliff Mayne and Hugh Ditzler, ranked numbers one and five, respectively, in the Northern California Tennis Association.

Following the singles match, Miss Farel Footman, number one women's singles player in the NCTA, will team up with Sig Jacobson of the Berkeley Tennis Club in a mixed doubles match against Miss Gene Laird and Floyd Svensson, tennis coach at DVC.

Svensson, who is chairman of the Friday night program, has also lined up Kevin Merrick of the Orinda Country Club and Sig Jacobson to present a varied program of tennis instruction to those who come out to the DVC gym.

Merrick will instruct and illustrate "The Basic Game." Jacobson will follow up with instruction and illustration of The "Big" Game.

The program, sponsored by the Diablo Valley College Faculty Association, is open to the public. Admission will be adults, 50 cents; 8-14 years, 25 cents; under 8, free, if accompanied by an adult.

24 Walks Help in Las Lomas Win

The Las Lomas Knights rode rough shod over the Piedmont Highlanders Tuesday afternoon as they walked to a 21-0 win.

The Knights collected but seven hits to the visitors' two in notching the win, but made the most of 24 walks issued on the part of four Piedmont pitchers who took turns at finding anything but the plate.

The Knights collected runs in all but the final two frames, getting one, six, five, seven and two in that order.

The Knights scored their six runs in the second inning without benefit of a hit. Piedmont had three errors, to the Knights' one.

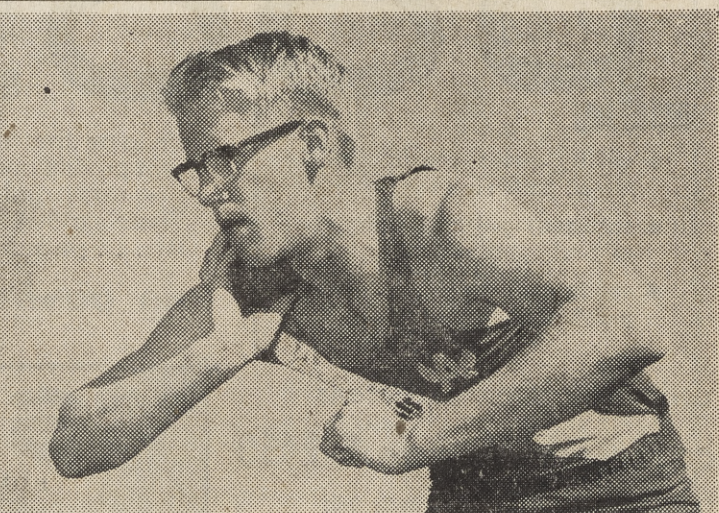

Batteries: Las Lomas—Remy, Just (4) and Stephenson; Piedmont—Clayton, Ross (3), Conn (4), White (6) and Rawley.

Ram Thinclads Set Relay Mark

The Pleasant Hill thinclads took part in the El Cerrito relays Saturday and top performers were Tom Webb, Dick Gentry, Rich Holden and Mike Brodie who took fourth in their heat in the distance medley relay, with a 11:05.1 clocking which broke the school record.

Roger Foulk was sixth in the shot at 52-4 1/2 and also in the discus at 148.

In the mile race the Rams tied for third as the quartet, consisting of Vic Maghagni, Ken Friendenbach, Ken Young and Archie Allison stopped the clocks at 3:44.6 to break the school mark of 3:45.

DAVE DORNISFE of Acalanes is one of the county's best shot putters. He posted the best individual mark in the San Ramon Relays last weekend, when he heaved the 12-pound shot 50.2 1/2 feet. Dornisfe, an aid to the entire Don track team in each meet, is favored for one of the top posts in next month's county track competition.

Las Lomas Graduate Wins Relay for Cal Over U.S.C.

By ERWIN MATTSON

Bob Karlsrud, Las Lomas grad, has been doing a fine job in track at the University of California, and hit a high last Saturday when he beat Ted Smith of Southern California by a half yard in the final leg of the relay.

Smith had beaten Karlsrud in the regular 440, but the Walnut Creek runner came back in the relay to take the pole and hold it all the way, as he literally ran the U.S.C. runner into the ground.

U.S.C., who hasn't lost a dual meet since Coach Jess Mortensen took over, won again, but the thrilling Cal win in the final relay gave the Blue and Gold supporters something to yell about.

The first real warm weather of the season arrived the past week and as a result spring sport performances are bound to improve all around.

Warm weather is necessary in order for an athlete to get in good shape and from here on in times, marks and performances should improve all around.

Some golfers, or should I say most golfers, play a lifetime with out ever making a hole-in-one.

The Acalanes Dons golf team has really cracked the odds with three hitting the near impossible shot in the past two years. The past three weeks have found two members of the team hitting that hole-in-one shot. Coach Neils Waitford reported that the performers brought a round of cokes as per custom. Look for pictures and a full story on the event in next week's Sun.

George Harrison of Orinda, who is presently an ace on the Stanford swim team, appears to be headed for the Olympics again, as just last week he set a new American record of 4:28.6 in the 400-yard individual medley. He made the last Olympics while at Acalanes High and looks to be on his way to Rome for a repeat performance.

The quarterback club of Concord recently honored George Galli of the Pleasant Hill Rams as the wrestling coach of the year, as his team won the Bay Area Invitational, the Contra Costa Division meet, the DVAL Tournament, along with the North Coast Section and state titles.

Captain George Brun of the Rams was named as the outstanding wrestler as he lost but one of 32 matches and placed second in the state meet.

A top student, he recently won an alternate spot to the U. S. Air Force Academy.

Bob Thompson of Pittsburg was named as the Contra Costa Division top basketball coach. His club tied for the championship with Clayton Valley and leaves behind a 138-130 record in nine games of coaching as he is stepping down to go into full time counseling.

Pleasant Hill 9 Loses to Pacifica

The Pleasant Hill Ram baseball team lost a "toughie" last Thursday, when the Pacifica Spartans outscored them, 3-2.

Pacifica collected a lone run in the first inning and that proved to be the difference as both clubs scored two in the second to wind up the game's scoring.

The Spartans collected their first run when pitcher Charlie Morgan hit a single to score Ken Lopez from second after he had walked and reached second on an error.

In the second Pacifica scored twice. Steve Graves was safe on an error and when Gene Coffman singled and Barry Neely walked, and Howerton, Vandiver (5).

THE LONG wait paid off for Bud Turner of Lafayette this week, as he managed to latch on to these four tickets to Tuesday's Giant opener against the St. Louis Cardinals in Candlestick Park. Bud waited in line at the new San Francisco stadium from 3 a.m. on Monday to make sure he obtained the tickets when the box office opened for general admission seats.

Constituents Voice Views On Nat'l Issues

Sixty-four per cent of Congressman John Baldwin's constituents favor reduced national debt over reduced taxes.

Some 48 per cent favor federal men overseeing voting places where there is race discrimination, while 32 per cent say no, and 20 per cent are undecided.

These are conclusions from Baldwin's questionnaire circulated to Contra Costa and Solano counties.

Others: the majority of registered voters who returned the questionnaires favor a law against illegally rigging a TV show, favor lowered wheat price supports to reduce surplus production.

They want economic action against Cuba's Castro, a raising of allowable regular income under social security pension from $1200 to $1800, greater safeguards against obscene literature in the U. S. mails.

Baldwin said 90 per cent of the union members and 92 per cent of the non-union members want a secret ballot vote by union members before a strike is called by the union.

The constituents do not favor eliminating all deductions under federal income tax laws, allowing lower income tax rates.

PTA Sponsors Local Panel

The 32nd District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers sponsored a panel discussion of chairmen from the Department of Parent and Family Life of the state Congress of PTA, Tuesday, at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harold Bates has been elected president of the Diablo Valley Republican Assembly.

Broadway Easter Parade Runs Through Monday

"They did a wonderful job" was a typical comment heard after the Broadway Fashion Show held Saturday as a feature of the Broadway Easter Parade, which runs through next Monday.

The Broadway Shopping Center's Easter Parade has been especially planned to bring out the best offerings of Broadway merchants during the special 10-day period.

Paul Speegle, newspaperman and columnist, was commentator, but the beauty honors went to his hostess, Miss Sue Bronson, Miss California for 1959.

Speegle's comments were heard by hundreds of shoppers and visitors who especially planned to attend, during 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. shows in front of the Lucky Store.

Colorful carnations were given out by young ladies throughout the shopping center, last Friday and Saturday.

George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "We like to hold these special events because they bring more people to see us, and we find public relations is increased many times."

He added, "The people like them, too. They have told us so."

Club Elects Vice President

Don Reed, owner-manager of the Clayton Valley Nursery of Concord was elected vice president of the Mt. Diablo Men's Garden Club at a recent meeting.

This was a special election to fill the vacancy due to a resignation.

The Club also decided to participate in the Walnut Festival and the Contra Costa County Fair.

John G. Maute Sr., of Concord was appointed as chairman of the exhibits committee, with E. I. Kotok of Walnut Creek, a member.

Albert E. Evers of Lafayette will be the representative to the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council.

Walter Kunze of Martinez was named chairman for the annual barbeque in July.

President E. N. Munns of Concord announced that subsequent meetings of the Garden Club will include the care and cultivation of roses, plants for the patio, and a panel discussion by experts on home gardening problems.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 25.

HAVING FUN and being in style is nice work if you can get it, and young Kathleen Parkinson, a model at the Broadway Fashion Show, Saturday, got it. Admiration comes from her mother, Mrs. Warren Parkinson, Rosalie Schaffer, manager of Goldman's, and George Webster, chairman of Broadway Merchants Association.

By Golly, It's Green Out There.. Take a Look..

By BILL HAYWARD

SPRING SURE IS BUSTING OUT ALL OVER... this is the time of the year that we all are beginning to think of picnics, barbecues and clambakes.

The very thought of staying home to pull weeds and cut the lawn just doesn't send me either. When I got up this morning I had plans to work on the leaning fence and to do some much needed rototilling in the back yard... but when my daughter mentioned that she was going to the beach with some of her friends that did it!

Now my thoughts are changed to the beach too. I agree we all should take a weekend to do a little RIVER FISHING... or some CLAMDIGGING at BOLINAS... or some good old-fashioned plain PICNICKING just out in the hills somewhere. The grass is as green as it will ever be in 1960... the poppies and wild flowers are everywhere you look... I warn you all to not get too wound up in your spring cleaning program and spring garden planting to not have enough time to spend a Sunday on the beach or in the hills... your kids will like it too... if the kids are grown up and away to school or grown up and married... take your bride and go anyway.

The warm sun... the fresh air and the gentle breezes will forever relax in your memory... only GO... somewhere.

I KNOW THAT Contra Costa County is my favorite home... yet a trip to Bodega Bay and up toward Russian River and the Fort Ross area is a treat. Take a ride south to Carmel and Monterey... visit the Missions there and at San Juan Batista near Hollister... try a run up thru the Valley of the Moon... thru Glen Ellen, Kenwood and Santa Rosa and return thru Sonoma with another Mission to visit there.

The drive up the Napa Valley this time of the year is the greatest. Go north on the Silverado Trail which goes up the east side of the valley and return from Calistoga on the road that goes thru the Petrified Forest and then return thru the west hills over Trinity Mt. and by Lokoya Lodge.

GET AWAY FROM the congestion and enjoy the remote and lazy unpaved roads where the traffic goes at a snail's pace... One very interesting byway that encircles Mt. Diablo that you may enjoy for a picnic in your ALMOST BACK YARD... take the road thru Clayton toward Marsh Creek... turn right at Curry Creek Park and follow this quaint narrow old country road thru to Tassajara and return to Danville and home...

BUT... GO... GO NOW... while spring is in its wildest bloom.

NOW THAT YOU HAVE HAD YOUR WEEK END... let's chat about "FIX-UP your place a bit. Would you like to join in my little campaign to foster a FIX UP, CLEAN UP MONTH this coming month of May... Your home deserves the BEST... it's yours to cherish... Take a pencil and pad and start around the outside making notes of the things that you feel should be done to make it in good condition.

Maybe the roof gutters need a coat of primer and paint... almost every home at this time of the year could stand a coat of paint or two on the WEATHER side... the south and west exposures; that is, in this particular part of the country. All windows will need a trimming... possibly you might like to change the trim color of the house. You'd be surprised how much of a lift your entire family will get out of your painting and re-doing to trim a new contrasting color... mark my words... and try it.

WASHING WINDOWS is a terrible chore at any time yet this

Jewish Women Sponsor Seder Dinner Tuesday

Commencing at sundown Tuesday, Jews throughout the world will start the observance of the Passover Holiday which lasts one week for the Reformed Jews and eight days for the Traditionalists.

The Seder dinner, which is a special service observed at the beginning and at the end of the Passover period, will be sponsored by the League of Jewish Women, Sisterhood of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

Music Teaching Is Series Topic

"The Teaching of Music" is the subject for a series of discussions being held monthly at the Pleasant Hill Nut Bowl under the direction of local members of the Music Teachers' Association.

The meetings, held each third Wednesday of the month, are designed to allow an informal, moderated discussion of techniques, problems, aims and policies involved in teaching music.

The topic of the April 20 meeting will be "Rhythm." Sheila Hill of Orinda will present some of her views and experiences as director of a pre-school group.

Part of the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of installing and maintaining a sense of rhythm in the school-age child and adult beginner.

Polly Grover of Walnut Creek will be moderator.

"The Very Young Beginner" was the subject of the March meeting. The series is free to members of MTA.

Others interested in attending one or more sessions should contact Virginia Daniels. A limited number of guests will be allowed to attend for a slight fee.

on Tuesday, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Scharlach, at the Center Building in Lafayette.

Rabbi David Robins will conduct the Seder service beginning at 7:30, and Cantor Henri Goldberg will lead the community singing. Members of the community will join in the recitation of the prayers for peace and understanding among all the peoples of the world.

They will eat of the Matzos, the unleavened bread of affliction, to remind them of the suffering of their fellow Jews and of mankind. They will also partake of the bitter herbs and salt water to remind them of the sadness, bitterness and tears shed throughout the centuries of suffering and persecution.

The symbolism of the traditional and commemorative foods will be explained, songs will be sung, and prayers recited.

Italian Group Will Act at Curran

Marking a highlight of the current theatrical season in San Francisco, the world famous Piccolo Teatro de Milano of Milan, Italy, will open a two weeks' engagement at the Curran theatre on Monday, April 18, under the auspices of New York impresario Jerry Hoffman and James Doolittle.

This notable company of 25 actors from Italy will present Carlo Goldoni's comedy classic, "The Servant of Two Masters."

Produced and acted in the Commedia Dell'Arte tradition of the 15th century, the play is enacted mostly in pantomime, acrobatics, music, and rhythm, thus offering no language barrier to non-Italian audiences and making the hilarious proceedings clearly understandable.

time of the year when the new flowers are out for the sake of spring, it's real nice to be able to see them from the front room thru clean-clean windows.

Check your garage door for sag, ease of operation and paint too... some folks never close their garage doors from one year to another. It's quite a shock to find the door almost rusted in the open position... especially if you are thinking of selling. Take care of your home and it will take care of you... by bringing a higher price when you DO decide that you will sell. This is TRUE!

Big Majority of Doctors Favor Fluoridation: Poll

An overwhelming majority of East Bay physicians favored the fluoridation of the East Bay Municipal Utility District water supply as a dental health measure, a just-completed poll by the Alameda Contra Costa Medical Association indicated, according to Stanley Truman, M.D., secretary-treasurer of the bi-county medical association.

In reference to the proposition of controlling the fluoride content of the water supply, which will appear on the June 7 ballot, Dr. Truman said 95 per cent of the physicians responding favored fluoridation.

OF THE 1177 replies, 1119 physicians definitely said that they favored fluoridation. Forty-seven physicians said no and 11 said they wanted more literature on the subject.

Fluoridation, which is controlling the amount of fluoride at one part to one million parts water, in this case adding fluoride to the water supply, has been endorsed by the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association, the American Medical Association, the California Medical Association, national, state and local dental associations and all public health agencies.

THE UNITED STATES Public Health Department, which has repeatedly said dental decay is one of the major public health problems in this country today, has declared fluoridation, which will cost the citizens six cents per person a year, the greatest advance in the history of dental health.

Dr. Malcolm Merrill, director of the California Department of Public Health, said fluoridation will decrease dental decay in children 65 per cent and provide these children with lifetime protection. Dr. Merrill also pointed out that no other public health measure has ever had such a long and thorough study before being introduced to the general public.

Clerk Needed

Contra Costa County Civil Service Department announced it is accepting applications for the position of communications clerk, salary range $325-$395.

The current examination is limited to "Male Only."

Young men who are high school graduates with two years of clerical experience, and who can type at least 25 words per minute, may apply.

Gooney Birds Are Audubon Meeting Topic

A meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society was held yesterday at Las Lomas High School.

William Goodall, Pacific coast representative of the national society, spoke on Gooney Birds.

There will be two overnight field trips for the birders during April. The first is this weekend to Columbia State Park, with headquarters at the John Irvings cottage in the town of Columbia.

There is camping space on the Irvings grounds and motel and trailer courts in town.

There will be a get-together dinner at 6 p.m. at the cottage with a nominal charge per person.

Mrs. Lynne Farrar and Mrs. Harry Couden are in charge.

The second field trip will be a camping expedition to Pinnacles National Monument, 25 miles south of Hollister on Highway 25, April 23-24.

Your lumber dealer can help you with cost estimates on your summer cabin and, if you don't want to do all the work yourself, can recommend a dependable contractor.

'Checkup and a Check' Is Cancer Drive's Theme

Immediate saving of lives from cancer throughout central Contra Costa County and ultimate total victory over the disease, is the double objective of the 1960 Cancer Crusade, which begins today. The annual educational and fund raising drive of the American Cancer Society's county branch will be conducted by hundreds of local workers in a month-long effort built around the theme, "Guard Your Family—Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check." Jack Chapman of Alamo is county chairman of this year's campaign committee which will seek to raise $70,000 as the local share of a $3 million statewide goal.

CHAPMAN said that the 1960 Contra Costa goal is the highest in American Cancer Society history because of the mounting needs of cancer research and life-saving educational programs. The county chairman urged all citizens of Alamo, Danville, Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda to attend an educational film showing and to discuss the cancer problem with qualified physicians at a public meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Contra

Costa Real Estate Board office, 1343 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. CENTRAL Contra Costa chairman for Danville is Mrs. Stanley Kwiat; Alamo, Mrs. H. Burk, and Diablo, Mrs. Robert Mainhardt. Chaplain said there is still time for interested workers

County's Firefighters Will Take Part In Huge Fire-O-Rama Tomorrow

ONE OF the featured events to be conducted by several of the county's fire departments tomorrow is the climbing on a drill tower via pomper ladders and returning to a net via life line. The event is performed here by the Orinda Fire Protection District. All of the county's firefighting departments will take part in the first annual Contra Costa Fire-O-Rama, to be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow at the county fairgrounds in Antioch.

County residents can thrill to a really different kind of event tomorrow—the first-annual Contra Costa Fire-O-Rama to be held at the county fairgrounds in Antioch.

The event, sponsored by the Contra Costa County Fire Chiefs Association, will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and will feature 150 firefighters from city, district and industrial departments from throughout the county.

According to Orinda Fire Chief Allen P. Winsor, publicity chairman for the chiefs' association, every precaution possible will be taken to assure that the audience is not endangered.

A total of 24 demonstrations of fire fighting will be included in the Fire-O-Rama, and some of the most spectacular will be the use of helicopters in fire fighting and life saving, 1000 gallons of gasoline set afire, airplane crash fire and chemical fires.

Winsor said, "The event will give the audience, all with the insatiable human appetite to see something burn, a chance to witness in a few hours more flame and smoke than any probably would see in a lifetime."

It will also be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for most of the firefighters, he stated. They will have the opportunity to test new equipment and take a hand at dousing uncommon types of fires.

CHEMICAL and petroleum fires throughout the Bay Area constructed the 1000-gallon tank for the man-made holocaust, firemen have built crude wooden buildings and have stuffed them with dummies to simulate the injured and the Navy arranged for trucking in a large old jet airplane from the Alameda Naval Air Station.

New devices for fire fighting and rescue will include power saws for breaking into buildings, aluminum suits that withstand extreme heat, and a helicopter, loaned by an aircraft firm, which will hover over the center of a blaze.

Firemen will show the special tactics used in fighting chemical and petroleum blazes and will demonstrate "water fog," a spray made by a special high-pressure nozzle. Firemen will display uses of portable pipes, an above-ground water system similar to those used to fight incendiary fires in London during World War II.

In addition to combatting flames and rescuing dummies, the firefighters will put on a breath-taking show on the specially-constructed drill tower, according to Winsor. They will never about using ladders, ropes, climb, jump and otherwise man and nets.

Crusade Honors Its Supporters

A total of 31 firms and 44 volunteers were honored at the third annual award dinner for the Central Contra Costa United Crusade yesterday at the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

The dinner will be held during "Appreciation Week" being observed by the five counties of the United Bay Area Crusade.

Other activities include Crusade thank-you messages in various churches, and member agencies are presenting cakes to publishers and editors indicating their appreciation of disseminating news and public information throughout the year.

Entertainment was furnished by the Madrigal Singers of the Diablo Valley College under the direction of Dr. J. Philip Dalby.

Utilities Official to Speak At Symposium, April 20

Robert R. Gros, vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, world traveler and winner of numerous awards for speeches supporting the American free enterprise system, will speak at the second annual Contra Costa Business and Industrial Outlook Symposium.

It has been scheduled for the Diablo Country Club April 20 under sponsorship of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

Gros' topic, according to general chairman C. P. Tanner of the symposium committee, will be "A Prospectus for the 60s."

He will be introduced at the dinner meeting, after an afternoon of panel discussions on county governmental problems, by Harold Carr of Oakland, also an official of the utilities firm.

THINK IT'LL HOLD WATER?

Doggone right it will! In fact, this giant pipe'll soon be bringing you some 90-million extra gallons of pure mountain water every day!

First, though, these hard-hatted gentlemen have to inspect its coating and lining. Then it has to be hooked up to 10,691 other pieces of pipe. Result: "East Bay MUD's" new $68-million aqueduct. It's all part of the $252-million Water Expansion Program you approved at the polls in June of '58. Remember?

This new pipeline will stretch 94 miles, from the Sierra foothills to the East Bay. Actually, it's much like the two existing lines it parallels, only bigger in diameter. Big? Why, there's enough steel in this new pipeline to build the Bay Bridge, cables and all, and still have steel left over!

Incidentally, this pipe is being made right here in the Bay Area. This serves a double purpose: It helps keep our local economy healthy...and assures you a future full of sparkling Sierra water.
